REDS DEMAND FORMAL PEACE PLAN

Asks Parents Fight Vulgar Comic Books

A suggestion that parents organize into "vigilante committees" for the purpose of visiting stores to urge dealers to refuse to handle the "objectionable comic books," was offered last night by R. Y. Davis.

Davis, fifth vice president for the Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers, spoke last night at a meeting of the Rebecca Grubaugh school P-TA. He is a teacher at Johnny Appleseed junior high school.

Davis said that not all comic books are bad. He said about 20 per cent were good, while the other 80 per cent were "vicious and vulgar."

Davis pointed out that in Indianapolis, Detroit and Hillsdale, Mich., similar action had worked. He added that in Los Angeles county an ordinance barring objectionable comic books was passed.

He said he had an idea that many dealers "don't know what they're selling." Davis brought along 14 comic books which he put on display for the audience and which he described as about the worst of the lot.

Pointing to one, he said the book on four pages contained 14 types of torture and viciousness.

Davis, at the same time, condemned radio serials of the gangster and mystery type. He said a youngster goes to a movie on a Saturday afternoon seeing a crime movie, a spy serial, and then goes home to hear more mysteries on the radio, or grabs a funny book to read.

Davis said that later junior can't sleep because "he's afraid something is going to get him." He charged that comic books and certain radio programs cause an emotional over-stimulation. He pointed out that the comic books and radio serials affect children more because at their age they are more impressionable.

A broadcasting company had refused to carry a Mae West program on moral grounds, Davis reported, but it had "substituted five hours of murder stories."

Pointing again to the display of 14 comic books, Davis declared he read through all of them looking for a joke. Then he said: "I have no joke to tell you."

"Comic books are not funny. Neither are they books," he said. "They are picture stories. About 200 different types are printed and they're read by nine out of every 10 youngsters up to 18 years of age."

Davis asserted the comic books have a use, if used properly. "They're so important to children, they've become a part of their culture.

"The books tend to cause an imitation of unnatural tendencies," Davis asserted. "Juvenile delinquency has gone up in direct ratio to the number of comic books distributed."

He said 60 million books are printed monthly, one for each two and one-half persons. He did not advocate that the books should be abolished, but that they should be improved. He said the comic book industry needs a code for the production of comic books.

The books provide adventure and emotional outlet for children, he concluded, therefore "I don't say abolish all comic books, but let's clean them up. Let's concentrate on eliminating the worst ones and giving our children the best kind."

Miss Eva Leonard, children's librarian for the Mansfield Public library, said she objected to the cheap color and poor art of the comic books which tend to spoil a child's taste for art.

"Good books," she continued, "can be used to counteract the comics. Good books have as great an appeal as comic books."

She suggested that parents surround their children with good picture books to cure them of reading comic books, adding that books at the library depicting the lives of great Americans have proven so popular they're always out of the library, especially the book on the life of "Kit Carson."

The P-TA group went on record as in favor of the creation of a Community Welfare council, in line with the recommendations of state welfare workers who surveyed child welfare conditions here recently.

Russian Papers Play Up Truman-Stalin Meet Idea

MOSCOW—(AP)—The Moscow press gave heavy play today to a Tass dispatch from Washington quoting an American newspaper as saying President Truman may come to Russia for a personal talk with Prime Minister Stalin.

The fact that this item was published here at all is not without significance. The newspapers made no comment on the report, but it is hardly likely it would have been published if the editors did not look upon it as a serious, worthwhile piece. Its publication caused much comment in the foreign colony of Moscow.

The Soviet news agency dispatch said the Washington Times Herald printed the report. (The dispatch may have referred to a syndicated column, Tris Coffin's Daybook, published in the Times Herald.) It said Monday President Truman wants a conference with world leaders on peace and might even go to Moscow."

The dispatch said that, "although no definite decision has been reached, Truman presumes he can meet Stalin at his place (presumably Washington) instead of going to Moscow."

"However," it added, "if Stalin does not leave the Soviet Union, Truman is filled with such a determination to put into effect his program of peace that possibly he will himself go to Moscwo."

U.S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith planned to leave for Berlin this week, but an informed source said there was no connection between this and the Truman-Stalin report. Smith is said to be going to German on personal business. A snowstorm delayed Smith's takeoff today.

While the Soviet press published this talk of peace, it continued to hammer away at the Americans on the Korean question. The press said the rebellion in South Korea still was in progress on a big scale, but that American troops were helping to smother it (U.S. Army headquarters at Seoul have denied that American troops were fighting in South Korea.)

Every Moscow newspaper, from the smallest to the largest, printed the Truman-Stalin report.

An authoritative foreign source said:

"It is possible. It is possible."

Claims Soviet Women Raped 'Thousands'

NEW YORK —(UP)— Soviet women soldiers raped thousands of Hungarian men in the early days of Soviet occupation, former Hungarian Premier Ferenc Nagy wrote today in his new book, "The Struggle Behind the Iron Curtain."

Nagy said the Russians established a recreation camp near Keoskemet for more than 30,000 ill and convalescent women members of the Soviet army and police forces.

"From this camp, for instance", Nagy said, "the Russian women banded together at night and swooped down upon the surrounding hamlets, kidnaping the men and sometimes holding them captive for days."

Truman Gets Turkey

COLUMBUS —(INS)— The Ohio State university Poultry Science club tomorrow will pick a grand champion turkey at a dressed turkey show which will be sent to President Truman for Thanksgiving.

Food Riots Sweep Through China

Mobs Rage Through Big Cities

Three Killed, Scores Injured

BULLETINS

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The United States granted more than 18 million dollars in aid to China today despite communist advances in that war-torn nation, the Economic Cooperation Administration announced.

★

NANKING —(INS)— The Chinese government proclaimed martial law in Nanking tonight in a move to quell food riots in the communist-menaced capital.

★

NANKING —(INS)— Food rioters swept through war-torn China's communist-menaced capital of Nanking today and caused at least three deaths and uncounted injuries.

Hundreds of famished citizens stormed the city's food stores and restaurants as mobs raged through the streets in efforts to seize daily necessities which virtually have disappeared from Nanking's markets.

The attacks followed similar outbreaks in Shanghai yesterday.

Latest information from the great Whangpoo river port of Shanghai said that riot squads are being kept busy suppressing crowds of looters storming rice shops.

Six separate new riots occurred during the day. The most serious was on Pootung peninsula across the river from the Bund where several thousand refugees ransacked twelve entire blocks of homes, stripping them of food.

They met little resistance from the terrified inhabitants.

YANKS EVACUATE

After nine days of uninterrupted increases in Shanghai's towering prices, the financial structure finally began to show signs of collapse owing to mere shortage of printed money. Quoted prices of rice and cigarets were cut in half.

Preparations were made, meanwhile, to begin aerial evacuation of American service dependents from Nanking tomorrow in the face of mounting danger arising from communist military advances north of the capital.

Simultaneously, all communications with the important Liaotung gulf port of Hulatao were suspended. This indicated that Chinese Nationalist forces have lost their last major foothold in communist-conquered Manchuria.

U. S. air force planes will start flying out some 500 American women and children from Nanking tomorrow to the ports of Tsingtao and Shanghai, where Army transport ships are waiting to take them back home.

Court Hears Poison Case

CINCINNATI, — (INS) — The state continued to press its first degree murder charge against Mrs. Mary Clay Watts, 43, today after hearing of two gruesome death predictions by the Cincinnati widow.

Mrs. Watts is charged with fatally poisoning 11-year-old Barbara Ann, her only daughter, to obtain her $14,000 inheritance.

Mrs. Wava Revore, a neighbor, and Mrs. Velva Perisall of Hinton, W. Va., a former neighbor of Mrs. Watts, both testified the accused woman predicted her daughter's death last May and invited them to the funeral while the girl was still in a hospital.

Mrs. Piersall said:

"Mrs. Watts told me Barbara Ann was going to die, and after it was all over she would tell me how Willis Watts killed her."

Mrs. Piersall referred to Mrs. Watts' husband, first thought to have died from injuries received in an auto accident, and later shown to have been killed by arsenic poisoning.

Bulletin . . .

CHICAGO — (INS) — Five persons were reported killed, five others were believed missing and seven were injured critically today in the collapse of a steel water tank atop the Central Cold Storage company in suburban Riverdale.

Winter Makes A Bow

First Snowfall of Season Hits City

The season's first snow fell on Mansfield this morning and from now on, the weatherman says, you can probably describe the temperatures by comparing a disagreeable old adjective: cold, colder, coldest!

In other words, neighbors, winter's here. So stoke up the furnace and start hibernating.

Thin flakes of fast-melting snow were common throughout the state early today. Mansfield's first snowfall of the season started just as most residents were sitting down to their 7:30 breakfasts. The fall lasted approximately 20 minutes, with only fleeting evidence left on car hoods and shrubbery.

Rocky Mountain residents continued to dig themselves out of deep snow as below-zero temperatures hung on in the region which has been caught in extreme cold weather since Sunday.

In the Columbus, Cincinnati and Cleveland areas snow was mixed with rain. It was the first snow of the season in the state capital and at Cincinnai. Clevelanders saw their first brief flurry a few weeks ago.

Flakes were heaviest in Columbus where the flurry lasted for half an hour. But even there, they were soft and slushy and melted on contact with the still-warm earth.

Urbana reported a total of 29 inch of snow between 4 and 5:30 a. m. this morning. Forecasters said similar "wet snows" would fall in various portions of the state throughout the day with freezing temperatures predicted for the west portion tonight and near-freezing in the east portion.

Lows of 33 were recorded at Mansfield, Toledo, Dayton, and Cincinnati early today. It was 35 at Columbus and Cleveland. Mansfield recorded .39 inch of precipitation.

Maintaining that the mercury drop brought the state back into the average temperature range for the season, weathermen said the brisk cold would last for several days. Yesterday's high reading of 59 at 1:30 p. m. plunged to 35 degrees at noon today.

IT WON'T BE LONG—This picture was taken in Denver, Colo., yesterday but when Mansfielders looked out of their windows this morning they realized it could happen here any day now. The city's first snow disappeared soon but freezing weather is forecast.

Death Leap Ires Vienna

Austrian Jumps To Escape Reds

VIENNA —(INS)— Residents of Vienna were aroused today by a repetition of the "Kasenkina episode" which cost the life of an Austrian who leaped to his death from Soviet imprisonment.

Friedrich Boehm, employe of the Russian-controlled Usifa Trust, was killed late last night in a jump from the top floor of the Soviet Kommandatura building in the center of Vienna.

Reliable Austrian sources said that the Russians had accused Boehm of "factory espionage in service of the Marshall plan."

The incident rivaled the case of Mrs. Oksana Kasenkina, Russian school teacher who was severely injured in her jump to freedom from the Soviet consulate in New York City last Aug. 3.

Boehm, who landed on the sidewalk outside the Vienna building, told those who rushed to his aid that he jumped from the window because the Soviets were holding him on a charge that he was a spy.

The victim was able to add only the words:

"My name is Boehm. Please inform my wife."

An Austrian doctor summoned to the scene pronounced the man dead.

Soviet soldiers then carried the broken body inside the headquarters building where it remains.

NEW POLIO CASE

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Stanley Chapman, 6, of Sandusky, O., is in City hospital's polio ward, the first victim to enter since Oct. 25.

Sky to Glow Tonight

Big Bonfire Sparks Fan-Student Rally

The sky over Stadium field will be reddened tonight with the glow of flames from the huge bonfire which will signal a gigantic student-public rally at 7:30. The rally is phase one of the city's "tank trap" drive to spur the Senior high Tygers to "Beat Hamilton" Friday night.

Students, industries and business places have all contributed combustible materials to the huge pile at Stadium field Dr. D. A. Weir, chairman of the Tyger Booster club pep committee, says it will be the biggest fire of its kind in the history of Mansfield.

The crack Tyger cheerleading corps will be in charge of tonight's "back the team" program. Among other things they will burn a Hamilton player in effigy.

Then tomorrow, the second phase comes off. It will be a giant snake dance which is scheduled to start in Central park immediately after the Armistice day parade. Again it will be the cheerleaders who lead the "hopped-up" students through the downtown district.

Posters sponsored by the Tyger club made their appearances today in Mansfield store windows. The posters carried the legend: Hamilton Claims, Not Just State Championship. National Champs! WE'LL SEE!! Under the legends are pictures of Senior High football players.

GUNMEN ESCAPE

ST. MARYS —(INS)— St. Marys Patrolman Paul Davis exchanged gunfire with three would-be bandits early today but they escaped in an automobile bearing Michigan license plates.

John F. Kramer, veteran Mansfield attorney and sports enthusiast, was principal speaker at a pep rally yesterday in the Senior High auditorium.

Enthusiasm generated for the Mansfield-Hamilton battle Friday has already passed the hysteria which usually only accompanies games with Massillon.

Blame River For Disease

DEFIANCE — (INS) — The Maumee river's uncleanliness was blamed today for outbreaks of infantile paralysis in northwestern Ohio.

Most polio cases in the area, a 15-judge court was told by former state Health Director Walter H. Hartung, come from along the Maumee and its tributaries.

Dr. Hartung, health director from 1935 to 1939 and now Toledo health commissioner, said that 305 polio cases were admitted to Toledo's Maumee Valley hospital so far this year. Most of the victims, he said, lived in communities along the Maumee and its tributaries.

Skeptics Refuse $100 Bills

Brunette Fails In 'Give-Away' Attempt

NEWARK, N. J.— (UP) — Mrs. Helen Kuhl Weiss, 35, was back home worrying about all the money she has in the bank today, convinced that you just can't give the stuff away.

Mrs. Weiss, a small, attractive brunette, started out by drawing $1,000 in 10 new $100 bills from her account at the Howard Savings institution.

She offered one of the notes to the teller.

"This is for you," she said.

The teller refusted the bill.

So Mrs. Weiss threw the crumpled century note on the floor of the bank and walked out. the teller retrieved it and put it back into her account.

She then posted herself on busy Market street, and began giving the bills to passerby.

Police were summoned by Kenneth Irwin, a guard at the Ohrbach store. He reported that the woman approached him, thrust a bill into his hand and said, "Here, this is for you. Have a good time with it." Then another woman approached, placed another bill in his hand and explained that Mrs. Weiss had given it to her but she didn't want it.

Irwin followed Mrs. Weiss and rescued another $100 of her money from a veteran selling poppies.

Finally, he hailed a patrolman who took her to headquarters, along with the $300 Irwin had retrived.

Only two of her bills were unaccounted for, and she explained those by saying. "I gave one to a man in a in a khaki shirt. The second I handed to a good-looking man in a store—I don't remember where."

Her father, William Kuhl, an assistant claims manager for an insurance firm, called for his daughter at headquarters. He explained that she had been over-wrought since the recent accidental death of her husband from whom she was divorced.

He said she had been worried that someone was forging her name to withdrawal slips and taking money from her $3,000 bank account, and had decided to give the money away to be rid of it.

Kids Play Hookey, Folks Get 'Hooked'

DELAWARE —(UP)— The "anti-hookey" campaign waged by the principal of Delaware Willis high school today netted three more parents.

The parents, charged by Principal Carl L. Hopkins with failing to make their children go to school, were scheduled to appear before Justice of the Peace Clifford Giltner today and tomorrow.

Three parents already have been fined by Giltner since Hopkins began his campaign.

Bombs Start Armistice Observance

Park Service, Parade Scheduled

Memorial services in the morning, a parade in the evening, and all-day open house for veterans and their ladies at the American Legion will mark Mansfield's Armistice day tribute tomorrow.

At 10:49 a. m. the observance will get under way with the exploding of 11 flash bombs from the roof of the Mansfield-Leland hotel every minute until 11 a. m. when Memorial services will be held in Central park.

Rev. John Gensel, Legion chaplain, will conduct the services which are being held as a tribute to the men of World Wars I and II who gave their lives for their country.

Legion members will form at the post at 10:30 a. m. and march in a body to the park.

CLOSE FOR SERVICE

Mayor Roy W. Vaughn has issued a proclamation asking all stores and business places wherever possible to close from 10:45 to 11:30 a. m. so that their employes can attend the services.

Joseph Denig, commander of McVey Post No. 16 of the American Legion, announced today that the Legion will hold open house all day tomorrow for veterans and their ladies.

There will be entertainment and a free lunch both in the afternoon and evening. From 9 to 12

Forrestal In Europe

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The civilian boss of the United States' armed forces was due in Europe today.

There, it was announced, Secretary of Defense Forrestal will talk with American officials at Paris, Frankfurt, Berlin and London, including Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American commander in Germany.

And there seemed no reason to believe he would pass up any chance to confer with officials of other friendly governments in Europe where this country has a high military stake.

Forrestal's visit to Clay assumed special significance in the light of the general's conference Monday with Viscount Montgomery. The British Field Marshall is chairman of the military committee of the Western European alliance.

The formal announcement of Forrestal's trip said he would "discuss problems affecting the national military establishment" with American officials in Europe. And any development concerning military aid to the Western alliance is directly related to problems of the American military establishment.

Children Alone, Fire Claims Two

YOUNGSTOWN —(AP)—Fire killed Carol Ann, 3, and Ralph Nance, 4, yesterday as they played alone in their home. A neighbor rescued Carol's twin brother, Carl. Their father, Will Nance, was working and their mother was visiting at the time, firemen said.

New Steel Record

NEW YORK —(INS)— The American Iron and Steel Institute announced today that more steel was produced last month in the United States than any previous month during war or peace.

Palestine Armistice Rejected

Action Angers Western Allies

PARIS—(UP)—Russia demanded at a closed meeting of the United Nations Security council today an early Arab-Jewish peace conference to settle the strife in Palestine.

Jacob Malik of Russia called on the council to order the Jews and Arabs to negotiate, either directly or through the acting Palestine mediator for the U.N., for "the establishment of formal peace."

The Soviet move amounted to a rejection of a new proposal by the mediator, Dr. Ralph Bunche, for a U.N. armistice in Palestine.

A U.N. officer announced that Malik proposed major changes in the Bunche plan. They would convert it into a full-fledged peace plan, instead of an armistice.

The Soviet position clashed with that of Britain, France and probably the United States. But it was believed likely to get enthusiastic support by Israel.

Full details of the meeting were not made public. When the session of two and a half hours broke up, the delegates of Britain, Belgium and France stalked out in obvious anger.

Despite talks of peace, Israeli forces on the southern front opened a new assault today and overran Arab strongholds all the way to the approaches to Egyptian-held Faluja, 32 miles south of Tel Aviv.

The new Israeli attack was launched as President Chaim Weizmann appealed to President Truman to back Israel's plea that the United Nations order direct Arab-Jewish peace negotiations rather than merely an armistice.

ACT ON GREECE

The United Nations political committee formally charged three Soviet satellites with aiding the Greek rebels, and then voted down a Russian move to force United States troops to leave Greece.

By a vote of 48 to 6, the 58-nation committee, splitting squarely between the Soviet and western blocs, charged Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria with threatening the peace in the Balkans by aiding the Greek communist forces of Gen. Markos Vafiades, and told the three powers to end it.

Then a Russian counter-proposal to order withdrawal of all "foreign troops and foreign military personnel" from Greece was voted down, 38 to 7, only the Soviet bloc nations supporting it.

Adoption of the Russian resolution would have meant that the present fairly large American military mission to Greece would have had to leave that strife-torn country. U. S. officers and men have been aiding the Greek government forces in planning operations against the rebels.

The committee also voted to extend the life of the special U.N. commission in the Balkans for at least a year.

Workers Get 'Windfall'

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Earl Brooks, an Ohio war veteran at Cornell university, now thinks government services are all right.

In his correspondence with the Ohio Bonus commission, he accidently shipped $800 in postal savings certificates in an envelope and mailed it.

The bonus officials shipped them back. "The honesty of your employes," Brooks wrote in his next letter, "restores my faith in governmental service."

Pottery Union Set To Investigate Seven

EAST LIVERPOOL — (AP) — The activities of seven members of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters will be considered at a special convention opening Nov. 29 in Atlantic City. Secretary-Treasurere Charles F. Jordan said their conduct has been "disorganizing and destructive."

All-Ohio Wippel Out For Season

OXFORD —(INS)— Miami university's steadiest ball carrier, fullback Sam Wippel, will be out of the lineup for the rest of the year, according to physicians.

An examination after Saturday's game at Dayton disclosed an ankle fracture plus torn ligaments would keep Wippel on the bench. Wippel was an all-Ohio selection last year.

Loses 39 Lbs. Regains Curves Says Painesville Lady

Flossie Tuttle, R D 4 Midway Blvd., Painesville, Ohio writes, "I was just plain fat weighing 177 lbs and being only 5 ft. 3 inches tall. Since taking Rennel I have lost 39 lbs. and feel better; more pep and full of life. No more puffing and blowing. Rennel has done me worlds of good. Those hidden curves are all mine again and I have not known a hungry moment while reducing. My motto is 'Be faithful to Rennel' and I am very sincere in my praise for this reducer."

Hundreds of others have obtained similar relief from the social and physical discomfort of being overweight. Why not try this effective yet, inexpensive method of reducing and enjoy the pleasures of feeling younger and more alive. Try Rennel and notice the admiring looks you will receive from your friends as your figure becomes younger and your vitality increases. Just go to your druggist and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Rennel. Pour the contents into a pint bottle—add enough unsweetened grapefruit juice to fill the bottle and then take two tablespoonfuls a day. That's all there is to it. If you aren't satisfied with the results return the empty bottle to the manufacturer and your money will be refunded. You need never know a hungry moment while taking Rennel—no starvation diet—no printed diet list to buy—no vitamins to fortify you against weakness while going hungry, for you WON'T be hungry. Don't be switched to another product. Insist on the genuine Rennel.

Place Modernized as Boss Gives Workers Big Check

NEW YORK — (UP) — I. M. Strauss said Tuesday he believed his labor-relations problem was solved.

"Maybe I lost my temper," he said. "But we cleaned the place up."

Strauss is the man who called in the 100 employes at his auto accessories warehouse and said:

"I'm tired of your beefing about this place. Here is a check for $250,000. Fix it up to suit yourselves. I want to see what you can do."

Tuesday the employes showed him.

The employe-committee started collecting complaints. No. 1 was the three flights of stairs. They installed an elevator.

No. 2 — The workers didn't like the fact that there wasn't a decent place to eat in the neighborhood and the company didn't provide them a room for lunches. The committee built a dining room with three cooks who serve coffee, beer and food at cost. The manager has an index of diet restrictions from workers' wives. If they can't eat it at home, they can't eat it at the plant.

No. 3—They enlarged the rest rooms and finished them in black onyx, complete with glassed in showers. No. 4—Louvred ceilings with light coming through the louvres the louvres to give an even illumination. No. 5—Loud speakers in every department connected with a combination record player and radio in the mail room. There is music most of the day, and each speaker has individual volume control so the workers can hear speeches and the world series above room noises.

Uranium Field Found

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont.—(UP)—Reports of an important uranium strike along the northeastern shore of Lake Superior have started a rush of prospectors into the area.

Test assays showed the radioactive deposits to be 59.1 per cent unranium ore. Local miners described the find as having "sensational possibilities."

So far 225 claims have been staked, with new claims being registered at the rate of nearly 50 a day.

The area of the strike, 73 miles northeast of Sault Ste. Marie, is well known to many American fishermen who have made excursions along the coastline from Batchewana Baw north to the Montrea river.

Tobacco was the first export crop from America.

Believe Universal Military Training Will Be Postponed

WASHINGTON— (AP) —Universal military training, backed by President Truman in the past, probably will not be pushed when the new Democratic-controlled congress meets in January.

So far as reachable military officials know, there has been no final White House decision.

But some officials in the military establishment, in a position to know policies, express doubt the UMT program will be urged at the next congress session.

It is pointed out that the armed forces still look upon UMT as the best long-range method of building up a reservoir of trained manpower. But the urgencies of the present world situation, as developed during the last year and especially during the last six months, make it more essential to give full attention to the present combat strength of the army.

Perfect Eyesight, Optometrist Finds

CHICAGO—(UP)—Mrs. Louise Springer, 26, was sentenced to a year in prison on a charge of picking an optometrist's pocket while posing as a patient. Dr. Joseph Morenilla said he examined her eyes, found them perfect, and discovered his wallet with $55 missing after she had gone. Police said she used the same technique on another optometrist and a doctor.

Kramer Is Top Pro Net Star

NEW YORK—(AP)—Jack Kramer of Los Angeles today gained official recognition as the best professional tennis player in the United States.

He drew the No. 1 spot in the 1948 rankings of the professional Lawn Tennis association.

Behind Kramer in the rankings came Bobby Riggs of Altadena, Calif., the best in the business until big Jake came along.

The PLTA bracketed Don Budge and Frankie Kovacs of Oakland, Calif., in third position.

Pellone Replaces Janiro on Card

NEW YORK — (AP) — It'll be Tony Pellone instead of Tony Janiro against Kid Gavilan in Friday night's welterweight boxing headliner at Madison Square Garden.

The 20th Century Sporting club announced late yesterday that Janiro, from Youngstown, O., had sprained his back in training at Greenwood Lake, N. Y., and withdrew from the bout after examination by state boxing commissioner, Dr. Vincent Nardiello.

O'Neill Is Open For Baseball Bid

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Steve O'Neill said today, somewhat desperately, he was open for "any good bid in baseball, in either the majors or minors."

The deposed manager of the Detroit Tigers, who has given 39 of his 57 years to the game, said in an interview that since his firing last Saturday he hadn't received "even a feeler" for a new managerial job.

Ohio Horse Players Bet Much Dough Again

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Horse players bet $31,168,989 on running and harness races at Ohio tracks during the 1948 season, the state racing commission reported yesterday. The state's cut of the parimutuels was $555,618.

The total compared with $31,787,155 last year and the record $32,517,813 in 1946.

Wake Forest Signs For Second Dixie Bowl

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — (AP) — Wake Forest will play in Birmingham's second annual Dixie Bowl.

Holt Rast, general manager of the Dixie Bowl, announced today the signing of the North Carolina team to appear at Legion Field New Year's Day.

Engine, 12 Cars Jump C&O Track

CHILLICOTHE — (AP) — The locomotive and 12 cars of a Chesapeake & Ohio railroad freight train jumped the track last night at Gregg, near here. The train, en route from Columbus to Russell, Ky., apparently hit a split switch, C. & O. division officials reported at Covington, Ky. No one was injured and damage was light, they said.

Do You Want A Home Instead of a House?

Before Nov. 17, we will present a plan that assures security and happiness to ambitious men who want to make money to give their families the comforts of life. This opportunity today is given to men associated with us the certainty of buying new homes. Are you living in a house instead of a home? You may be working long hours with no step forward year to year, if you can't save one-third of your earnings monthly to get the things you want for your family—there are two main reasons for this. 1. You are not making enough money in your present job. 2. You are not in the right position (for you, personally.) Because of the shocking percentage of people in these two classifications our corporation has allowed this office to show you an honest presentation. The means to a secure future with our organization. Since this is not the ordinary sales proposition, we will present our plan only by appointment in your home in the presence of your wife. Her happiness is contigent on your success, and we want you both to know the facts, that we know will help you if you have the qualifications and are selected by our company. Write Box 457, care of News-Journal.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

HEY! THIS IS A DEAD-END ALLEY— AND OUR FELINE PANCIER'S VANISHED!
HE'S ALREADY POPPED INTO ONE OF THESE BUILDINGS.
CHAZZ! STAY HERE WITH SPRAY... CHOPS, YOU TAKE ONE SIDE; I'LL TAKE THE OTHER. LISTEN AT DOORWAYS. IF HE'S MOVING AROUND...
AND IN A WINDOW HIGH ABOVE, A TINY FLAME GLOWS...

WILMER, ONE OF US OUGHT TO TALK TO THE MEN.
YOU DO IT, SKEEZIX. YOU'VE GOT A BETTER LINE THAN I HAVE.
FELLOWS, YOU HAVE BEEN FAITHFUL, AND WE ARE PLEASED WITH YOUR WORK. RIGHT NOW, WE ASK YOU TO PUT FORTH SPECIAL EFFORT.
WE WANT YOU TO BE EFFICIENT AND SAVING OF TIME AND MATERIALS. WE EXPECT TEAMWORK.
IN THE NEXT FEW WEEKS WE HAVE A HURDLE TO GET OVER. WE HOPE YOU'LL HELP.
COUNT ON ME!
SURE, WE WILL!
WHY NOT?

RIP KIRBY

BETYA! YOU.. YOU SLAPPED ME!
HOW CAN YOU HAVE THE INSOLENCE TO THINK I COULD CARE FOR YOU.. A COMMON GAMBLER.. A STRUTTING POSER? YOU AND YOUR RIDICULOUS MIMICRY OF LORD NELSON! GET OUT OF HERE!
VERY WELL, MISS BANNISTER.. I'LL GO! BUT YOU WILL REMAIN!
NO! NO! YOU PROMISED!
HANSEN, YOU WILL GUARD THIS DOOR UNTIL RELIEVED! UNDER NO CIRCUMSTANCES IS MISS BANNISTER TO LEAVE HER QUARTERS!
AYE, AYE, SIR.

Contract Let for Modernizing Mansfield Post Office

Completion Of Job Due In 210 Days

Washington Firm To Do Work

Contract for improving the Mansfield post office building and site has been let to the Schriber Decorating company of Washington, D. C., Acting Postmaster Curtis L. Ford announced today. The work is expected to cost about $20,000.

The contract was let in Washington by the Federal Works Agency. Bids submitted several weeks ago were rejected, presumably because they were excessive.

Ford said it hasn't been announced when the work will start, but he understood the project is to be completed within 210 calendar days from receipt of the notice to proceed.

The FWA promised late in the summer that the work would be completed in time for Christmas rush. That appears improbable now, however, postal officials said.

PROJECTS LISTED

The project calls for:

1. Enlargement of the loading platform on the south side of platform on the south side of the post office.
2. Installation of a mail chute and a hydraulic lift so that incoming parcel post can be processed in the boiler room instead of the main workroom.
3. Remoldeling of the boiler room to provide additional storage space for supplies.
4. Improvement of the vacant lot to the east of the post office building so that this space can be used for parking.
5. Miscellaneous repairs throughout the building and installation of additional lighting facilities.

Ford said there is a possibility that further changes will be made in the improvement program in order better to adapt the proposed installation to existing space limitations.

"As long as our present post office building must be used, complete modernization of our postal facilities is impossible because of lack of working space," the acting postmaster said.

"The building simply is too small, and the changes and additions included in this contract are intended only to tide us over until such time as a new plant designed to meet the needs of the city can be constructed."

Officers Chosen By B'nai Jacob

Members of B'nai Jacob congregation held their annual election of officers at a meeting at the temple Tuesday night.

Three officers were re-elected for the coming year. They were David S Lapine, president; Leonard B. Hurwitz, first vice-president; and Sam Fox, treasurer, and Leo Budin, secretary.

Others elected were Nathan Lifson, second vice-president.

Anti-Red Broadcasts Hint New Slovak Republic Birth

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — Mysterious anti-Communist broadcasts from somewhere in Europe are suggesting cautiously that a new Slovak republic may be forced "once more from the dust of Communist humiliation."

The new clandestine radio station is dedicated to "draw a true picture of the world situation outside the iron curtain" for listeners inside of Communist-dominated Czechoslovakia.

Government monitors picked up the mysterious broadcast for the first time last Wednesday. Since then, code messages — presumably to Czech anti-Communist refugees abroad — and news programs have been broadcast regularly.

Listening posts here disclosed today the end of the program picked up last Saturday said:

"If a new Slovak republic should be formed once more from the dust of Communist humiliation, the effort must be quiet, organized and unselfish . . . We implore the Almighty to help us to surmount all obstacles in our way and help us in the building of a new, free, more beautiful and happy existence for our nation in this democratic republic."

The announcement said, however, that the new station did not intend to carry "abuse of present-day rulers" in Czechoslovakia "or to agitate for nonsensical and hazardous political actions against the regime."

"We know the situation at home very well," the announcer said, "and understand that every move or intrigue against the regime is followed immediately by the sternest reprisals."

Bombs Start Armistice Observance

Park Service, Parade Scheduled

p. m. Glenn Wencland's orchestra will play for dancing.

All city, county, state and federal offices and Mansfield banks will be closed tomorrow.

Curtis L. Ford, acting postmaster of the Mansfield post office, announced that there will be no city, rural or mounted deliveries Thursday. However, parcel post will be delivered as usual to business and residential addresses.

Factories, stores and other commercial establishments only may call at the post office for their mail between 7 and 11 a. m. tomorrow. This service will not be extended to individuals.

The regular holiday schedule of collections will be in effect. The first business collection will begin at 8 a. m., residential collection at noon, and the second business collection at 4 p. m.

PARADE AT 7::30 P. M.

At least 25 patriotic organizations and military units are expected to march in the annual Armistice day parade, which will begin at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow.

The parade will be divided into five sections with a band furnishing the marching music for each. Bands which will march are the Shelby American Legion band. Mansfield Senior high school band, Madison band and John Simpson and Johnny Appleseed junior high school bands.

Rockets will be exploded from the roof of the Mansfield-Leland as the parade gets under way.

The parade will form near the American Legion home on Park avenue west, move east to Central park, around the park to North Main street, to Fourth street, west on Fourth to Mulberry street and south on Mulberry, then west on Park avenue to the Legion home.

Donnell E. Gale will be marshal for the day.

The parade will assemble at 7::15 p. m. Sections 1 and 2 will assemble west of the American Legion home on Park avenue. Section 3 will assemble at Sturges avenueavenue, section 4 at Marion avenue, and section 5 at Bowman street.

Section No. 1 will include: Earl D. McVey Post, American Legion and Richland Post No. 72, American Legion, Shelby, Shiloh and Plymouth posts and Co. F, Ohio National Guard.

Section 2 will include: Blue Star Mothers, Mansfield Amvets, Bellville Amvets, Disabled Veterans and Organized Naval Reserve. The 164th Fighter Squadron, Officers Reserve Corps and Air Reserve Unit have been assigned as Section 3.

For Section 4, Spanish American War veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Army ground forces, Air Corps, Navy and Marine Recruiting Services will take their respective places. The final section will include Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Mansfield Fire Department and other groups.

City Studies Concrete Street Paving Costs on Toledo Trip

City officials today began a study of "a more economical and durable" method of paving streets which experts claimed would save taxpayers more than 65 cents per foot front.

Yesterday, Mayor Roy W. Vaughn, Service-Safety Director Earl T. Garrison and Councilmen Charles N. Shultz and Fred Miller traveled to Toledo to study methods used there to construce a new type of concrete street.

Arnold V. Finch, Toledo commissioner of engineering and construction told Mansfield officials that concrete streets made with curbs attached have helped Toledo and Detroit economize on street paving.

He said that integral curb streets resulted in savings of 65 cents per foot front to assessed taxpayers in Toledo and Detroit. The saving would be even larger in Mansfield.

Councilman Shultz, chairman of the finance committee, said he hoped the method can be used to save money in future city street paving projects in Mansfield.

Car In Garage Struck By Brick

Damage to a garage and a theft from a garage were reported to police yesterday.

Howard Beesler, 283 Third avenue, told officers bricks and stones had been thrown through his garage window and a brick had broken a window in his car. Beesler said the damage was inflicted between Monday evening and Tuesday afternoon.

Theft of a $65 drill from an unlocked garage was reported to police yesterday by Paul Madden, 288 Sturges avenue. Madden said the doors to his garage were closed, but not locked.

Vandals Break 26 Windows

An outbreak of vandalism in the north end of Mansfield resulted in the breaking of 26 windows in the shop of the Renie Metal Products company, 807 Bowman street, during the last few weeks.

P. G. Renie, president of the firm, reported today to the sheriff's office that 18 or 20 of the windows were broken last night while the others were broken during the last two weeks.

Renie said the windows, which were 18 by 20 inches in size were broken by stones and rocks. The windows broken faced on Bowman street, Henry street, and a driveway at the south side of the plant.

Supper Planned

The Moose lodge will hold a family covered-dish supper at the Moose hall at 7 p. m. Thursday.

He's YOUR man . . . and we're behind him!

Your favorite Sohio dealer is a friend and neighbor who has chosen to serve you with Sohio petroleum products.

But just because he's a local, independent business man, never get the idea that he's alone!

For behind your friend with the hose is everything it takes to make sure you get what you want from oil. On our end . . . 10,000 Sohioans . . . thousands of oil wells . . . thousands of miles of pipelines . . . acres of refineries . . . and hundreds of millions of dollars.

And today, it's taking more and more of ALL these things to meet your big and growing need for oil. In the last five years, Sohio alone has put more than $140 millions into new oil wells, pipelines, plants and equipment. In 1948, '49 and '50, we plan to invest at least $100 millions more . . . a huge, new investment for a medium sized company doing business mainly in one state.

So next time you drive into your favorite station, take a good look at your Sohio dealer. He's an independent business man . . . independent as all get-out. But he's also a member of the Sohio team . . . and we're backing him with the determination . . . the plans . . . the investment it takes to help him serve you well!

Ever wonder who owns Sohio stations?

3354 by far the greatest majority, are operated by independent dealers who own the stations or lease them from others . . . and who have chosen to represent Sohio

571 are leased by the Company to Sohio dealers who operate them as independent business men

312 are Company-owned and manned by salaried Sohioans

Ashlanders Placing Rat Poison Pills

City Dump Site of Drive

ASHLAND — Ten thousand poison pellets, made up by volunteer Ashland high school boys, are being placed around the Ashland city dump as part of the year-round rat eradication program of the city.

The pellets, prepared under the direction of W. D. Fitzwater, U. S. Department of the Interior and Jesse D. Straitliff, Akron, supervisor of the rat control program there, were made up at the county board of health offices.

Each contains a mixture of rolled oats, Mazola and zinc phosphide. Domestic animals are not attracted by the mixture, Fitzwater pointed out.

The pellets are being distributed now before the rats at the dump seek winter haven at nearby farms.

Labor Readies Pay Demands

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A government report that wages still are lagging behind prices gave unions fresh ammunition today for their fourth round pay boost offensive.

The new wage demands already are developing. The AFL recently called for worker-employer cooperation to step up productive efficiency and cut costs to clear the way for pay raises without new price hikes.

And an industrial relations research firm has just reported that "a few fourth round buds are beginning to bloom." This firm, the National Formen's institute, said a survey of 600 newly negotiated labor contracts showed an initial pattern of about 9½ cents an hour more

Mansfielder Placed On Probation

Pleads Guilty On Weapons Charge

Earl J. Tyree, 63 East Raleigh avenue, was placed on a year's probation in municipal court today after he pleaded guilty to a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

He was assessed the cost of the hearing, $7.10 and was placed on probation to his employer.

Arthur Porter, 270 North Main street, was fined $75 and costs and lost his right to drive for 90 days for failing to stop after an accident. Forty dollars of the fine was supended on condition he pay damages to Frank Keck.

A $50 fine was assessed against Patrick L. Smith, Galion, for having physical control of a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol.

Sam Markel, Ashland, was fined $25 and costs as a second offender on a charge of operating an overloaded motor vehicle.

Weldon E. Tidwell, 503 Park avenue west, was fined $5 and costs for failing to have an operator's license.

Chess, Checker Expert Victor

Newell W. Banks, internationally-known chess and checker player, gave a demonstration last night before 50 spectators at the Mansfield YMCA. Banks played three checker games and eight chess games simultaneously, using a blind-fold on the checker games. He won all 11 games.

A committee headed by George Biddle and John Fike will meet Friday night at the YMCA to discuss plans for reorganizing the local chess and checker clubs.

On Dec. 3, former checker-champion William Ryan will give a demonstration here and local players are invited to register as opponents, announced "Y" secretary Maurice Taylor.

New Deal Was Major Issue Of Campaign, Columnist Says

"The one big issue of the recent presidential campaign was the continuance of New Deal principles as against return of the free, capitalistic system that built this country," declared Russell Weisman, Cleveland columnist, in a talk yesterday before the Mansfield Rotary club.

Weisman, Cleveland Plain Dealer authority on economics and professor at Western Reserve university, was introduced by program chairman Ralph O. Wise. Optimist club members and Rotarians from nearby cities were guests at the meeting.

Declaring that the recent Democratic victory was neither a leftist nor a labor victory, Weisman cited reasons why President Truman won.

"Dewey made a bad campaign, speaking in broad generalities without making any firm commitments on vital issues," he said.

"He didn't take a stand on the issue of democratic local government as against the strong national government of the New Deal," added Weisman, "and many voters weren't sure if Dewey hadn't fallen into the New Deal's views on that crucial point."

Also there was the point of personality between the two men, Weisman added. "President Truman was from a small town, he was "folksy," and the American people like men like that, he explained. Dewey, on the other hand, was the original 'slick chick' from the big city, and he never made a move that wasn't well rehearsed."

Explaining that American industry must have profits to expand and replace, Weisman said, the fear of renewal of the excise profits tax and the corporation rate tax are deterrents to American industry.

"It's not too late for the American people and their government to revert to a strong economic base instead of this false boom that we are enjoying," he added.

"The American economy cannot sustain our present level of production forever. It's either slow down now or have a complete bust later, with a lot of people getting hurt."

P-TA Unit Backs Return Of Student Driving Class

Members of West Fifth P-TA endorsed the idea of reestablishing a driving course for students in Senior high school at a meeting at the school Tuesday night. Albert Hamman discussed the driving course.

The meeting was in charge of Mrs. Jane Heilman, president. Mrs. Evelyn Ramsey's room was awarded the prize for having the most parents present.

W. W. Blauser, principal, gave a short talk and introduced Dr. Harry Wain, city-county health commissioner. Dr. Wain discussed "The Progress and Achievement of the National Health Program."

Lunch was served from a table decorated in keeping with Armistice day. Hostesses were Mrs. Joe Bertka, Mrs. Hobart Bennett, and Mrs. J. L. George.

The next meeting will be a Fathers Night program Dec. 9. Albert Hamman and Emil Lommatzsch will be in charge.

Films Seen At Meeting

Five motion pictures were shown at a meeting of Hedges P-TA held at the school Tuesday night.

A committee was appointed to buy a new projector. It includes Miss Irma Manitzer, Robert Illenfield, and G. F. Schonauer.

It was announced at the meeting that the P-TA has purchased new basketball uniforms for the boys.

Plans were made to have round and square dancing at the Feb. 8 meeting and a penny supper at the Dec. 3 meeting.

The refreshment committee included Mrs. Kenneth Smith, chairman, Mrs. Lloyd Ewers, Mrs. Lester Poland, Mrs. Willard Horn, Mrs. G. W. Johnson.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

PAGE FOUR MANSFIELD, OHIO, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1948

That dazed look, so frequently seen on faces of passers-by during the past week, is gradually disappearing.

A quite new traffic safety suggestion is to the effect: "When you drink liquor, drink enough to get you down, so that you will not be able to start your car."

Kansas To Junk Its Prohibition Law

AFTER 68 years of notoriously unenforced "prohibition," a majority of Kansas voters last week ordered repeal of that state's prohibition law and authorized the legislature to set up a state-controlled liquor handling system.

Under the new order of things in Kansas, local option will be permitted by majority vote of smaller subdivisions, and what is called "the open saloon" is prohibited.

Coming belatedly, the Kansas legislature will have opportunity to benefit by the experience of 45 other states in setting up its liquor dispensing machinery, with 17 of these operating under the state monopoly system, as in Ohio.

Regretfully, Ohio cannot present to Kansas an ideal system for control and distribution of intoxicants, as good intentions have gotten considerably out of hand in this state and a condition permitted to come about that many regard as worse than in the days of the much maligned "old time saloon."

Oklahoma and Mississippi remain as the only states in which the sale of hard liquor is legally banned. Sale of beer is permitted in Oklahoma and beer and wine may be legally sold in Mississippi. Local option, however, bans sale of intoxicants in many counties of various states.

As conditions brought about in Ohio by the loose handling of licenses by the state board of liquor control become more generally recognized, there is at least a chance of legislative and administrative action to correct some of the present weak spots in the conduct of a business that has shown itself to require constant supervision.

Need For Park Was Anticipated

THE FORESIGHT that resulted in a section of South Boulevards being reserved for park purposes, when this subdivision was platted a couple of decades ago, is now bearing fruit as residents of that area take preliminary steps toward development of the park as another addition to Mansfield's attractive recreational spots.

Being now a part of the city of Mansfield, it is proper that its park should be welcomed into the Mansfield Public Parks organization, and the same enthusiastic interest that has been responsible for other park developments in residential areas of the city may be expected to produce similar results in the South Boulevards park.

It will be hoped that plans looking toward construction of a pavilion in the park by next summer can be carried through, and a look at the names of those who have been chosen to places of leadership in the project tends to inspire confidence that it can be done.

China Weakened By Orgy of Graft

"BUSINESS AS USUAL" may have been a cause of the fall of Mukden, and the loss of Manchuria and the possible downfall of Chiang Kai-shek which many think could follow. The "business as usual" was the graft which has plagued China for generations, and which Chiang has been unable or unwilling to root out.

The government armies were weak and ineffective partly because some of their commanders stole and sold the food and arms which were supposed to reach the soldiers. Such leaders were making a good thing out of their positions, and no pleas for the national welfare influenced them in the least. Reports of the persistence of graft are borne out by the acid memoirs of "Vinegar Joe" Stilwell, who tried for years to build up an efficient Chinese army.

No people have finer qualities than the Chinese, but few have been cursed with leaders so corrupt.

Many Small Businesses Thrive

THE NUMBER of small businesses in the country today per thousand of population is as large as at any time in our history. The authority for this is A. D. H. Kaplan, an economist who has written a report called "Small Business: Its Place and Problems."

What gives a report of this kind unusual interest is the fact that some years ago there was widespread fear that small business was doomed because of an inability to compete with large business.

This fear made itself felt in various ways. One of them was an attempt to levy heavy, punitive class taxes against the chain retail system. It was argued that this had to be done in order to keep the independent merchant from extinction. Yet, the independent has successfully competed with the chains, and does the largest part of all the retail trade in the country.

Small business in the United States has always been distinguished by vitality and a progressive spirit. It is holding its own in the competitive scheme of things, and it is here to stay.

When Proof of Birth Is Needed

HAVE you ever felt the need of a birth certificate, and had difficulty in getting it? To qualify for a pension or to prove citizenship a certificate is needed, and often is hard to find. Many large cities did not keep record of births till lately; sometimes those which did exist have been destroyed by fire.

Now it appears that the census bureau can help out. A branch in New York City has been getting hundreds of calls a month, and furnishing the information. For most purposes the 1940 listing is sufficient. The age given by an individual to a census-taker is accepted as legal evidence, says Melville J. Weiss, supervisor of the New York City unit, if a birth certificate is unavailable.

What Some Other People Are Saying

REP. JOHN RANKIN (D-Miss): "The country would be better off without hearing from Eleanor Roosevelt. Mrs. Roosevelt and her clique are not going to kick anyone out of the Democratic party without a fight."

* * *

GEN. ROBERT L. EICHELBERGER, a native of Urbana, O., and former commander of the Eighth Army: "The United States must protect Japan from communism. . . . We have definite responsibilities in this regard. We have disarmed Japan and have left her only a meager police force with insufficient arms for internal protection."

* * *

REP. FRED A. HARTLEY (R-NJ): "Repeal of the Taft-Hartley Law would lead to more industrial strife and disunity than has ever been seen in our history. A great part of this strife would take place in the South."

Surveying the Wreckage

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON — What a very fine job President Truman did in his election campaign against the 80th Republican Congress is apparent in an analysis of final returns.

At his prompting, the voters weeded out symbols of the drive by big interests in the 80th Congress to weaken long-established reforms and again try to fasten their hands on government.

He told the people the story familiar to observers of that last Congress — how the private utilities tried to "modify" in their own selfish interest statutes to protect the public; how the real estate lobby prevented passage of the long-range housing bill by influence with a handful of key Republican leaders; how health and education bills similarly were bottled up and not permitted to go to a vote in the House.

It was realized how hard this story is to put over because it is involved with complications of legislative procedure and sleight-of-hand.

But the President patiently explained it, day after day. He got valuable help, too, from groups interested in these matters, especially from labor, which got these complex issues to the public as never before and then got out the vote on election day.

There were, for example, the bills by Rep. William J. Miller (R.-Conn.) to restrict the authority of the Federal Power Commission in necessary investigations into utility records so that it could fix fair rates. Rep. Miller was defeated.

There was the so-called Rizley-Moore bill to hamstring the Federal Power Commission in its regulation of natural gas rates that would have cost consumers millions of dollars annually. While it finally was killed by the Senate interstate commerce committee by a close vote after it had passed the House, plans were afoot to revive it in the next Congress.

* * *

Scanning the Record.

LUCKILY for the public, the promoters of that measure, both from Oklahoma, both Republicans, will be missing from the new Congress. Senator Ed H. Moore retired voluntarily and did not seek re-election. Rep. Ross Rizley, who sought his seat, was defeated by former Governor Robert S. Kerr, Democrat.

Defeated also was Rep. Robert F. Rockwell (R.-Colo.), sponsor of legislation not finally enacted in the last Congress which would have jacked up rates on water users on giant reclamation projects in a way to cripple the usefulness of such projects.

President Truman's constant revelation of the devious and sneaky methods used by big interests, working through their agents in Congress, to curtail reclamation and power expansion, undoubtedly was responsible for his own sweep in the Mountain and Pacific Coast states, as well as for election to Congress of men who would back his program.

Where he was specific and clear about the issues involved, recognizing he was talking to informed people, Governor Dewey was general and vague.

During his campaign President Truman spoke often of the "rich man's tax bill" that finally got through Congress over his third veto.

The sponsor of that measure Rep. Harold Knutson (R.-Minn.), chairman of the powerful House ways and means committee, fell victim to the Truman sweep in Minnesota.

So it was as the voters took the Truman cue. About half of the members of Congress up for re-election who had voted against the European recovery program were defeated to indicate a great mandate for our international cooperation policy.

Many who had fought adequate housing legislation lost out from the uprising of enraged veterans and labor. Quite a number who had voted for the Taft-Hartley Labor law were moved down in the vigorous campaign conducted by labor.

Washington Calling

What Next In South?

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WHAT should not be lost sight of in the astonishment over the most extraordinary upset in American political history is that this is a victory of the middle way. It is a rout of the extreme right and more especially of the extreme left.

In that fact is the hope of genuine social progress. Nowhere does this apply more surely than in the South.

It will be easy enough to read the leaders of the Dixiecrat revolt out of the Democratic party. They made such a poor showing that the leadership of the party in the South will take care of that little item of business.

But, measured against the background of the problem of the South this is minor. On the record is the stand of the President for civil rights legislation. The platform of the Democratic party goes even further in declaring for legislation to implement the civil rights program.

On the record, too, is the implacable resistance of almost every element in the South to that program. This is not merely the Dixiecrats and the Talmadgeites.

Not even the most progressive leaders, such as Jonathan Daniels of Raleigh, North Carolina, who worked hard and long for President Truman's re-election, could support the kind of legislation which would mean the use of federal force to compel equality of opportunity.

Holding Carter, publisher and editor of the Delta, Miss. Democrat-Times and one of the most courageous liberal editors in the South, declared during the campaign for Dewey. Obviously he did so because he could not accept the civil rights program.

* * *

Conference Might Help.

IN THIS interim period before the new Congress convenes, what is urgently needed is a workable compromise acceptable to all but extremists in North and South. Such a compromise could mean real progress toward the goals of the President's civil rights commission.

The first step would be to call a conference of southern leaders. Such a conference should represent virtually all moderate and progressive elements, excluding the white supremacy diehards and the Dixiecrats.

The logical meeting place is in North Carolina. North Carolina has demonstrated through the years that progress is possible by state and local action. More than any other state, it has shown how the two peoples, Negro and white, can live side by side in harmony with the common goal of equality of opportunity.

To such a conference, held in Raleigh or Chapel Hill, the President could be invited to speak. With the bitterness of the campaign in the past, he could be expected to approach the subject with reason and fairness.

Surely a middle way which will mean genuine progress is possible. Take, for example, one of the touchiest features of the program —a proposed federal anti-lynching law. This would mean the use of federal force to detect, to apprehend and to convict and punish those guilty of the crime of lynching. This goes against the passionate conviction of a large part of the South.

But it would surely be possible to work out federal-state legislation that would not violate this conviction and yet would strengthen the barriers against lynching.

Unless such constructive action is taken, we can expect one of several unhappy results. A political stalemate, after floods of violent Dixiecrat oratory, would produce a deep disillusion among those who voted for Truman in the belief he would remedy known wrongs.

If arbitrary legislation is passed after a bitter battle by a narrow margin, the danger of explosive violence in the south will be increased. It will make hopeless the position of southern liberals and give the real enemies of the South their long awaited opportunity.

Truman Gives Serious Talk To Cabinet

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—President Truman's first cabinet meeting after the election was no backslapping affair. It was a sober, down-to-business, back-to-work session.

Only humorous note came as the stragglers were filing in, when Vice President-elect Alben Barkley told about an incident occuring at a Kentucky political rally. When the chairman announced there would be a two-minute wait before going on the air, someone piped up:

"I would like to take the two minutes to say a prayer for the Democratic party."

President Truman did virtually all the talking at the cabinet meeting and finished in less than fifteen minutes. He asked his cabinet to go to work on a future program which would put campaign promises into action. He said:

"I want you fellows to get your programs in shape for discussion immediately, because we've got to present them to Congress when it reconvenes."

Significantly the President gave no hint of firing anyone from the cabinet. He talked about his long-range program as if everyone present would take part. Only Secretary of State Marshall, now in Paris, did not attend. The man with the least to say was Dewey's friend, Secretary of Defense Forrestal, who didn't let out a peep.

* * *

He Bet On Truman.

ONE MAN who didn't go wrong on the election was Navy Chief Francisco Regacho, aide to Adm. Louis Denfeld. Regacho backed up his hunch on Truman with cash and won $1,500.

"I was in the Navy six years under the Republicans," explains Regacho, "and I couldn't get promoted beyond 1st class. But under the Democrats I got to be chief. Naturally I bet on my friends. Also I knew my boss, Admiral Denfeld, was for Truman."

* * *

Pearson's Cat.

NOW that the election is over and we can worry about other things, I am reminded that this is National Cat week, and that, thanks to my friend, Bascom Timmons, I am chairman of National Cat week.

Behind that shrewd political visage of his, Mr. Timmons has a tender heart and a fondness for cats. He promoted National Cat week last year, and, without consulting me in advance, got me appointed chairman for 1948.

Perhaps I should admit, however, that it was not so much Bascom, but my cat Cinder that got me into this.

Cinder sits on my desk when I am writing a column and acts as unofficial censor. As far as I know she cannot read, but she has uncanny instinct. For when I heave a brickbat in the direction of Bascom's boss, Jesse Jones, Cinder purrs with pleasure.

But if I want to start writing anything critical about her friend, Harry Truman, she stages a sitdown strike on the paper and won't move until I pry her loose.

Cinder is pure black—hence her name. Actually Cinder belongs to my daughter. When she was a small kitten my daughter took such a fancy to her that she insisted on taking her away to school and kept her there for a term.

Later my daughter graduated to other things and has been kept busy with a husband and son, so I have inherited Cinder.

While I realize that some people don't like cats, I would like to call their attention to the fact that he No. 1 enemy of our grain crop is rats. If the rats in our farm areas were eliminated, enough grain could be saved to feed all the people who starve in China.

And in cities, the rats carry more disease and filth than most of us realize. So, even if you don't like cats, remember — this week and all other weeks—that they are one of man's best friends in counteracting one of man's worst enemies.

Canadian Air Arsenal.

THE joint chiefs of staff in cooperation with the British have decided to make Canada the arsenal of the British air forces. Factories will be set up in Canada shortly to turn out jet bombers and transports plus a special Arctic jet fighter.

American aircraft companies have agreed to provide their technical "know-how" and help supervise production. Britain's famous jet fighters will still be made in England though later transferred in part to Canadian factories.

As the first step in putting this plan into operation, Fairchild Aircraft will permit its noted transport, known as the Workhorse of the Airways, to be manufactured in Canada under a special licensing system.

The U. S. Army and Air Forces enthusiastically approve of the idea for two reasons: 1. It will disperse the highly vulnerable British aircraft industry; and, 2. boost production of fighters and bombers in the western hemisphere.

Secrets To Be Guarded

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON—Almost all of the criminal, civil and loyalty investigating branches of the federal government heaved a deep sigh of relief last week.

And it was far from being wholly because of a Democratic victory. Rather it was because, Democratic or Republican, the executive and legislative branches of the government now would be back on the same team.

Therefore, no inter-branch political dispute would be likely to expose the gumshoes' most closely-guarded secrets — the methods, routines and tricks of their investigating procedures.

And, they insist, exposure of such trade secrets would weaken them far more than taking away their guns and handcuffs . . .

In the first place, it is of couse clear that many high departmental officials would have lost their jobs had there been a change in regime. However, few of them have anything but an administrative role in investigation work.

And there was no indication that the Republicans planned any drastic shakeup in the ranks of the professional career sleuths whose non-political record seemed to be generally acceptable.

But they were the ones who shivered the most during the last session of Congress when squabbles between administrative and legislative leaders threatened to expose many of their operating methods to criminals, spies and saboteurs.

At one particularly hot point, when a congressional investigating committee was demanding certain justice department files, old-time G-men were telling friends wryly that they'd soon be working for "the futile bureau of investigation!"

"If they make those files public," a department spokesman told this correspondent, "we might as well put bells on the boys! The information wouldn't mean much to the average law-abiding citizen, but any experienced crook, spy or saboteur could put two-and-two together and figure out plenty of our most effective investigating methods. Then they'd be about as useful to us as a secret code after somebody had published the key!"

* * *

Usefulness Endangered.

THIS was not only true in the justice department. Civilian investigators employed by the Army and Navy sent a swift squawk up through channels, saying that if their files were made public, they might as well turn in their time—as far as any future usefulness was concerned.

Not the least among those who felt the spotlight of publicity crawling closer was the comparatively new Central Intelligence Agency which, due to the "cold war" nerves of the time, feared such exposure not only would weaken us with potential enemies but also needlessly antagonize some of our friends.

When all of this was bucked up to the President, he promptly took the responsibility, issuing his famous order forbidding all such department heads to turn over investigating files to Congress.

Thus he took them off the spot so completely that some cabinet members actually were pleasantly reassured by Congressmen that "of course we understand this isn't your fault. You're just obeying orders . . ."

However, what the congressmen subsequently said about the President was far from pleasant, and they left no doubt that the matter was not finished.

At least two committee heads announced plans to see if that power could be taken away from the President by law. That's where the matter stood throughout the campaign.

Despite the election result, there are no illusions about congressional investigations. They will continue—and the sleuths usually admit they're pretty good things.

But with the same party running both ends of the show, the investigators figure that when the congressmen stumble on something a little too hot to handle publicly, they can pass the word up the line, the White House can whisper to the Hill, and the thing can be probed quietly—without divulging any "trade secrets."

Key to Housing Shortage.

Many theories have been advanced as to how to overcome the housing shortage. None has been very successful so far. Young couples seeking places to live resort to many ingenious devices.

The other day a New York veteran heard of a three room apartment for $65 a month. There was no gag about buying the furniture. But he soon found the key to this housing situation. He had to buy a little piece of metal necessary to unlock the door—for $2,000.

A Day In Our Lives

By CALVIN A. BYERS

MY FAMILY humors me. If I complain, they claim I have done it to them for more than 20 years.

During the school day, our home is quite deserted. The three younger boys climb on the school bus at a few minutes after eight every day. By that time, our oldest son and I have set out for the city high school in the Ford V-8. He chauffeurs me.

For long years I drove the car myself; now I often feel a great relief to let him sit in the driver's seat and assume responsibility for the hazards of the road. We return about 4 p. m. in peace and harmony, except on those occasions when he drives too fast for my comfort — an act every normal boy enjoys to do sometimes.

All our kids are normal.

Hardly do we arrive with the evening paper until the school bus unloads its shouting cargo at our door. There's a scramble for the funnies, a lot of tussling and tumbling, a demand for something to eat at once, then chores. Corn to husk. Stock to feed and water. Cows to bring from pasture and to milk and feed.

Frequently the football gets a tryout, but not too long. For each youngster has his job to finish for the evening, or by lantern light. And the days are short.

Mealtime comes at dusk. Often our married daughter runs over with something special for my supper. Custard, or pie, or even an oyster stew in a red pottery bowl. Her young husband, who works in a shop in town, may come along, to carry back a pail of drinking water from the spring. An early riser, he is gone to his work before we are awake every morning.

At home, all day, mother and daughter share a companionship that is good for both.

Tonight the youngest boy walked with me across the thick clover field. He seemed so happy that I did what nature prompted, placed my hand across his slender shoulders and, very close, we walked into the house. I was happy for the strong love of my youngest boy—nicknamed "Demoy" by his brothers.

Our field are broad, and the meadow spacious and green. We are blessed abundantly. God is very good to all those who are able to do useful work, and to have home and youngsters about them. Young people make such delightful friends and boon companions!

Dairy Unit In Crawford Hires Tester

North Robinson Man Employed

BUCYRUS — Employment of Edward Wagner, North Robinson, as Crawford county dairy tester for the Crawford County Dairy Service unit was announced here today.

Wagner, who recently completed a dairy testing and artificial breeding course at Ohio State university, also will act as an artificial inseminator for dairy herds along with Chester Eppley, Bucyrus.

Plans also are under way by the dairy service unit for a banquet at Grace Evangelical-United Brethren church here Dec. 8. Speakers will be Charles Blackman, who will discuss dairying in South America, and Carlton Christian, who will speak on "Milk Marketing." Both are OSU extension employes.

The dairy unit has nearly 500 members in the county.

Mt. Vernon Theater Loss Basis of $345,000 Suit

LEXINGTON, Ky —(AP)— Two Cadiz, O., men charged yesterday they lost $115,000 trying to compete with the Schine theater enterprises in Mt. Vernon, O.

In a $345,000 damage suit filed in U.S. District Court here, Emerson W. and Edwin B. Long said they were entitled to collect three-fold damages for their losses because of alleged unfair business practices.

Named as defendants were the Schine Lexington corporation, Schine Theatrical company, Schine Chain Theaters, Inc., Schine Circuit, Inc., Schine Enterprises corporation, and Belpik Theater corporation, described as a subsidiary.

The Longs accused the defendants of conspiring with each other and with major film distributors to monopolize movie business in "Schine towns."

Schine controlled every theater in Mt. Vernon until they entered the field by buying the Memorial theater in 1934, they said.

Schine "made threats to build theaters or to open closed ones," cut admission prices, sponsor games and give-way programs, bought more films than it could use to prevent anyone else from getting good ones, and demanded more favorable renting terms than other theaters could get," the petition said.

It's Purely Personal

Have You Heard . . .

By OLIVE GRESMER

. . . Word comes from the Ohio Wesleyan campus that Miss Nancy Ann Schultz was recently initiated into Phi society in a ceremony held at Perkins observatory. Phi society is the freshman-sophomore scholastic honorary society and has been established for many years at OWU. Freshmen who have exceptional grades are nominated into this group and initiated in their sophomore year. David Barnhill, of Mansfield, was also one of the initiates.

Miss Janet Hamilton of 63 Wood street, was among the 2,249 passengers who arrived in New York late Saturday on board the Cunard White Star liner Queen Elizabeth, which docked after a seven-day voyage from Southampton and Cherbourg.

She touched dry land more than twenty-four hours behind schedule due to a heavy harbor fog which kept the big liner at anchor in the lower bay overnight.

Among the notables who also disembarked were Mackenzie King, prime minister of Canada, and Dr. E. U. Condon, director of the bureau of standards.

Horoscope

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Thursday, November 11

There are excellent auguries for success, advancement, distinction, honors with general progress and well-being, according to the benefit aspects of the luminaries. It is a propitious time for seeking promotion, favors and financial support or friendly cooperation from elders, superiors, or employers. Yet over-doing this appeal, extravagance, rash or intemperate conduct of any complexion, could undermine the fairest and most promising of hopes and wishes. Keep calm and rationalize under the most exciting or glowing situations or joys.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, are assured a year of splendid opportunity, gain, progress, promotion and honors, with favors or friendly gestures from those in influential places. Also substantial support in launching ambitious projects of more than customary significance. Nevertheless, all such desires and aspirations could be "nipped in the bud" by any show of overplaying, extravagance, reckless or bold conduct, in which exaggeration or zeal might be prone to "bite off more than it can chew." Go slow and keep the feet and imagination on terra firma.

A child born on this day while ambitious, progressive and popular with superiors could undermine its objectives by rash, tempestuous or exaggerated notions or behavior.

Florence Welty Group Welcomes New Members at Mitchell Home

REV. AND MRS. C. P. MITCHELL, Western avenue, entertained 42 members of the Florence Welty Missionary society of the First Lutheran church Monday evening at their home. The topic for the program was "Missions Make Sense, Cents Make Missions," presented by Mrs. Robert Donnan and Miss Reba Robinson.

Mrs. Othar Holton reviewed a part of the mission study book, "China: Twilight or Dawn?" Mrs. M. D. Harnly, thankoffering chairman, announced the public thank-offering service to be held at 7:30 p. m. Nov. 21 at the First Lutheran church. The three missionary societies of the church will participate. A moving picture, "The Peiping Family," an up-to-date picture of China, will be shown.

The thank-offering contest was won by Mrs. Walter Hink. Mrs. Richard Wolford, president, presided for the business session.

A new project, the Fixit Kit, for Lutheran world relief, was presented by Mrs. Olan Aughbaugh. Reports of the 1948 central conference convention which was held Oct. 18-19, was given by the delegates.

Rev. Mitchell gave an informative talk on the decisions of the First Lutheran church at the recent congregational meeting, in regard to a new organ and chancel plus a remodeling program.

New members welcomed to the society were Mrs. Robert Hoeffler, Mrs. E. L. Zehrbach, Mrs. John Eby, Mrs. Gilbert Wiegand and Mrs. Jay Long. Associate hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Harold Boals, Miss Miriam Dye and Mrs. George Brightbill.

CHEESE RAREBIT

What about a savory Cheese Rarebit like this one for one of your meals? A bit of paprika and two sprigs of parsley together with some spiced apples make the dish look as attractive as it tastes.

Prepare the rarebit by combining 2 cups of shredded cheese (processed) and ½ cup milk in a double boiler. Place over hot water and stir until the cheese melts. Beat together an egg, 1-8 teaspoon paprika, ¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, and ¼ teaspoon dry mustard. Add the egg mixture to the cheese and cook, stirring constantly until the sauce is thick. Add 2 tablespoons of butter or fortified margarine and serve over toast or rice.

NEW ILLUSION SETTING

NEW YORK—A new type of illusion setting for diamonds beveled inwards toward the stone is being made of palladium or iridium-platinum. It spotlights the diamond in a ring as brilliantly as if a beam of light were focused on it, making small gems much larger than they are.

TREND IN RINGS

NEW YORK — Wedding rings are being made wider than ever before, a survey of current trends reveals. The small highly tailored band, however, retains its popularity. Increasing importance of the white precious metals, that is platinum and palladium, set with diamonds is noted.

To brighten salad dressing, add a crisp, fragrant Delicious apple, grated, to one cup mayonnaise. Especially good for fruit salads, or as a spread for griddle cakes.

MANSFIELD BRANCH, AAUW PARTICIPATES IN POLL

MEMBERS of the Mansfield branch of the American Association of University Women are participating this week in a nationwide poll to evaluate college education for women in the light of post-college experience.

"In what way do you feel that your college education is of value in your life today?" is the significant question asked of all AAUW members in a questionnaire which local members are now filling out in response to a request from the AAUW National Education committee The AAUW members are also asked, in the light of their subsequent careers as homemakers of business or professional women, to make suggestions for improvements or changes in present-day college training for women.

In view of the efforts now being made to fit education more fully into the needs of society, the AAUW survey seeks first-hand opinions and suggestions from the Association's more than 100,000 college-trained women members. This is the largest organized group of women graduates of accredited colleges in this country, and the AAUW survey is expected to yield significant findings in the field of higher education. An analysis of the compiled questionnaires will be, the committee believes, of particular value to those concerned with the guidance of women students and to college administrators who are planning curricula for them.

DEMAND GROWING

NEW YORK—With femininity the rallying note in dress fashions, demand for jewelry both fine and costume is growing, leaders of the industry report. Newest note is the increased use of the white precious metals platinum and palladium as against yellow gold. Largest costume jewelry houses copying fine jewelry are also featuring white. Chief reason cited is the "overwhelming supply of yellow in inventories; people want something different."

Grapefruit may be sweetened with maple syrup before broiling; serve as a first course or as a dessert.

Missionary Group Plans Xmas Party

Eighteen members and three guests, Mrs. Charles Cline, Mrs. Elizabeth Gribling, of Detroit, and Mrs. Eva Parkinson, were present when Mrs. M. O. Doolittle, 456 West Fourth street, entertained the Women's Missionary society of St. Luke's Lutheran church Monday. Mrs. Fred Doerr was associate hostess.

Mrs. Rufus Esselburn conducted the business meeting. Plans were made for the December meeting which will be a Christmas party in charge of Mrs. Charles G. Brown sr. Mrs. A. O. Fonkalsrud gave a report of the meeting of central conference, held recently at Zanesville.

The next meeting will be held Dec. 13, at the church. Hostesses will be Mrs. Homer V. Miller and Miss Bertha Harshman.

Stork Leaves Most of His Bundles at Hospital

Births In Homes Are Becoming Rare

(Editor's Note: This is the fifth in a series of articles about the administration and service at General Hospital.)

By NITA BRANSON

Fifty years ago little Johnny made his appearance in the family parlor, revamped for the occasion into a downstairs bedroom. Even 25 years ago, his birth at a hospital was a rarity and family budgets were not considered sufficient to pay for such "hi-falutin'" treatments.

Today the Johnnies of this era and their little sisters arrive in the maternity ward of a hospital as a matter of course. Few question his right to enter the world in a sterilized, well equipped room, with a private nurse and a doctor who often handles nothing but such important events.

Perhaps germs were the biggest factor in the change of locale for Johnny's birth. There was dust in the family carpet, and germs on the family curtains that even the cleanest of mammas couldn't prevent. Then emergencies often arose for which there was no convenient equipment. Many a mother has died because it was too late before necessary surgeon's tools arrived.

General hospital has all the modern equipment that makes for comfort, convenience, and safety of a patient and yet crowded conditions sometimes tend to offset even the best of equipment.

"While our bed rate per 1,000 patients at General hospital is higher than the state rate, it is not as high by a number of points as the national standard," Wayne Copeland, hospital superintendent, explained.

"We have one bed for each 300 patients, based on present population of the city which, I think, is considered about 46,000. The national rate is one bed for every 222 patients or 4.5 beds per 1,000. We have about 3.3 bed per 1,000. Ten years ago that was not true but the hospital has not kept pace with the increase in population, so as more people come to the city, fewer beds are available per 1,000 patients."

NEW WARD PROPOSED

Agitation for a new maternity ward, which would release rooms now used in that department for general service, was started when Dr. A. O. Fonkalsrud was superintendent. But because of building costs, the idea never materialized. Copeland, however, confirms Dr. Fonksalrud's idea that a new maternity wing is the answer to the congestion problem.

Special equipment at the hospital includes portable X-ray machines, infra-red lamps, violet ray lamps, diathermy machines, oxygen tents and many other devices that spell convenience for the patient.

In addition to the equipment, there are dozens of special rooms where the needs of a patient are cared for and to which only doctors and nurses may gain entrance.

In General hospital there are 88 ward beds, 64 semi-private and 23 private rooms, all equipped with sanitary, comfortable and easily cleaned furniture.

Take the beds for instance. You may think you have a good mattress at home, but you'll be surprised that you slept so well your first night in the hospital.

"Our beds must be full gatch frames," Copeland explained. "That means that a back and leg rest must be provided which may be raised or lowered. A properly designed hospital bed is 27 inches from the floor to the top of the springs so that both nurse and doctor have a convenient heighth from which to care for the patient."

If you have an allergy, you even get a pillow filled with kapoc instead of the traditional duck or goose feathers.

German Women Fear to Remarry

'Lost' Husbands Complicate Marriages

BERLIN —(AP)— Thousands of Germans live today in bigamy without knowing it.

This is what happens:

A woman has not seen her husband for several years. Maybe he was killed or captured. Perhaps he is held by the Russians. She has not heard from or about him. Enough time has gone by for her to presume the man dead.

The wife goes to a tribunal, declares that her husband is dead and gets a judgment. This is where the trouble starts. Under the law, the judgment must be published in a daily paper. Once that is done and a month has done by, the woman may marry again.

Seems simple, doesn't it? Judge Erich Schubart of a Berlin court says it, isn't.

Too many people are unaware of the strict technicality of the law. As a result they insert their advertisements in the only newspaper they know about. In villages it's usually a weekly. That is not good enough. Moreover, many fail to wait the necessary month.

This wouldn't matter much except that many Germans lately have been showing up after they are supposed to be dead. Then the fat is in the fire.

Schubart illustrates with the story of a woman whose husband had ben missing since October, 1943. There was testimony of friends who had last seen him wounded on a battlefield. On the strength of this evidence the man was declared dead in July 1947. Paper shortage and a backlog of advertisements made it impossible to publish this fact before Dec. 1, 1947.

Meanwhile, the widow, engaged to be remarried, decided Christmas day would be a nice day for the wedding. Everything went off fine. The registrar saw the death declaration and was satisfied. But four months later, the missing husband reappeared from a prisoner of war camp. He went to a lawyer. The lawyer found that the second marriage took place a week before the legal deadline and his client had a clear suit for bigamy.

Schubart, who is writing a book on the subject, says many who have been declared dead in the last 10 years—there have been more than 50,000 in Germany—are coming back alive.

If these people find their spouses remarried within the boundaries of the law there is not much they can do except claim their property. The second marriage is valid unless the supposed widow herself wants to go back to her first husband.

Gives Unconditional Release To Henry Wallace After Year's Use

I am sorry to let him go, for he was very useful to me for more than a year, but I am giving Henry Wallace his unconditional release and I doubt that you will hear much more about him. The authorship of the babbling letters to Nick Roerich has been established and I hope I may say without immodesty that the revelation of Bubblehead's tangled conduct cut down his popular vote from a potential of six million, the figure which Jim Farley mentioned last spring, to about a million votes.

Some tea-leaf readers then thought Henry would get eight million votes, but all this was goose-bone prophecy. Speculation and prediction will continue, however, and the election will find experts and pollsters at it again as though nothing had ever happened. Does a baseball seer retire because the team he picks in April winds up last?

I would point out, too, that not only we professionals of punditry and the more modest lines of journalism, the strident oracles of radio and the bookmakers, were wrong. Barney Baruch, the, in a generous manner of speaking, elder statesman, must have felt sure that Governor Dewey was practically in or he never would have slammed the White House door forever in his own face by calling President Truman a "rude, uncouth, ignorant man." True, he thought the better of it after a sleep, but his scared statement that he had no authorized quotation of his remarks was neither truthful nor extenuating.

Dan Tobin, the doddering king of the teamsters, and his regent, Dave Beck of Seattle, were equally at loss and missed the bandwagon. John L. Lewis had been at war with Truman for years so this was only another proof that his authority ends when the miner votes.

All these and Baruch, as professed Democrats in debt to the White House, turned Truman down at Philadelphia. It was, for a fact, a sore humiliation that a man of pride and masculine ethics could not forget. Naturally, Republicans and dissenting essayists would fight him, but these were his own people and they didn't fight but sneered. If he is a conventional American he must still respect the State's Rights Democrats who fought him on issues as declared opponents. He never has believed in so-called social program himself.

O'Dwyer, Hague and Curley not only quit him; they insulted him. Jimmy Roosevelt, a party parasite who fattened at the trough and gave nothing, publicly belittled him in Los Angeles. Eleanor and Leon Henderson, a marvel of levitation who stayed up for several years without visible means of support, organized a thing called the Americans for Democratic Action which yelled for Eisenhower or Douglas. The old girl came through with a letter at the last minute after Truman had barnstormed the country on his own, but it had the sound of a plea for her $12,000 job in the United Nations, her last means of public attention. She had to write it. Truman might tolerate her, but Dewey certainly wouldn't. So what had she to lose?

H-K Delays Moving To Delaware

Will Operate Here Into 1949

The Hughes-Keenan cooporation, originally scheduled to complete its operations in Mansfield Oct. 1, will be in operation here into 1949, W. E. Post, vice-president of the firm, revealed yesterday.

The company manufacturers cranes. For the past two months it has been moving its equipment to Delaware, where it merged last summer with Correct Manufacturing company of Delaware and the Burkett Body company of Dayton. Equipment is being moved gradually to the new location. Post said, and at present it is almost impossible to determine when the operation would be completed.

He said, however, "We will have many of our operations still going on here the first of next year."

As the building on Newman street is vacated, the space once occupied by heavy machinery used by the Hughes-Keenan in making cranes, is being used for tire storage by the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company. Much of the space has already been used for that purpose, Post said.

Buildings for the new plant have been under construction in Delaware, but shifting of machinery and equipment to the new location has proceeded gradually in order to interrupt production as little as possible, he disclosed. The moving operation has been under way for about two months.

Pointing out that the machinery used by the company is heavy and therefore difficult to transport, he states, "We cimply couldn't move all our equipment at once. It is taking considerably longer than anyone had anticipated."

Post said the firm would continue to make spring boom cranes at Delaware. The chief advantage of the merger, he indicated, was that it would consolidate the machine shops of the three firms into one location.

The other two companies are engaged primarily in the manufacture of truck bodies.

P-TA Plans Yule Party

Carpenter P-TA met Tuesday night at the building to discuss plans for the remainder of the school year. Arrangements were made for a Christmas party to be held Dec. 17 at the school with the teachers in charge of arrangements. William Wilmoth was appointed as general chairman for the school's annual lawn fete, to be held late in May.

During the business session in charge of the vice president, John Enderle, Albert Benson was named to replace Mrs. John Watkins as a member of the ways and means committee. Wilmoth was named chairman of that committee.

Mrs. Marion Porch was selected as hospitality chairman for the year. Other appointments included Mrs. Robert Salsbury, Girl Scout representative, anad Robert Gresmer, treats chairman for the school Christmas party.

Children of the fifth and sixth grades, under the direction of Miss Mildred Shively, sang four numbers. Mrs. William Black, representing the teaching staff, reported on the teachers' convention held recently in Cleveland.

Sixty attended the meeting and were served refreshments at the close of the business session.

Ideal Considers Profit-Share Plan

Plans for profit-sharing are under consideration by the Ideal Electric and Manufacturing company, a spokesman for the firm announced today. Executives are studying various plans in operation in some companies.

Stuart M. Weaver, executive vice-president, and Alvin O. Preyer, personnel director, of the Ideal plant, recently attended a two-day meeting of the Council of Profit-Sharing Industries in Chicago. There the many forms of profit-sharing in operation were discussed by practicing member companies.

The council was organized less than a year ago with a charter membership of 16 companies. Membership has since risen to 102 companies.

While the Ideal firm does not belong to the council, Preyor said, representatives were sent to the meeting to find out what types of plans were in use, and what type could be best adapted to their company. Membership in the council is limited to firms which have profit-sharing plans in operation.

The Ideal plant employs 400 people. Employes are organized in the United Electrical Workers union, Local 758, CIO. The local has recently been split by dissention over the question of allowing communists to hold office in the union. Climax of the strife came last Friday with the ousting of the chief steward in the local by the faction dominated by Arthur Weinick, business agent.

Leaders of the group advocating the communist ban claim a majority of the workers at Ideal want to withdraw their affiliation with the C. I. O. union and join the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (AFL). Spokesmen for Local 758, on the other hand, claim the ousted official was voted out unanimously, but they did not say whether a majority of the membership was present at Friday's meeting.

Trash Barrel Aids Escaper

A 20-year-old Mansfield reformatory inmate, believed to have escaped the prison kitchen at noon yesterday when he hid in a trash barrel, was sought by OSR officials today.

Supt. Arthur L. Glattke said the inmate, Edward Thomas, 20, of Scioto county, was thought to have been passed out in the barrel which was left on the dock for dumping.

Investigation has shown that Thomas probably made his getaway from the container somewhere between the dock and the dump about two city blocks away," Glattke said. The trash barrels, containing the refuse and garbage from the meal, are loaded an a farm wagon and taken to th dump.

Glattke said all barrels are supposed to be inspected before they are loaded, and the rule will be more strictly enforced.

Thomas was received at OSR on Dec. 9, 1947 to serve one to 15 years for burglary.

WAF Enlists First Woman

Jean Corfman Joins Air Unit

Miss Jean Corfman of Upper Sandusky has become first woman from this area to enlist in the newly-created Women of the United States Airforce. She was sworn in yesterday at 2:30 p. m. at the Mansfield recruiting station.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Corfman, she will be sent to Lackland Air Center, San Antonio, Tex, for basic training.

The WAF was created by Congress in 1948 after the Air Force was made a separate division of the defense department. Formerly, that branch secured female personnel from the Women's Army Corps (WAC).

Miss Corfman, who hopes to go on to officers' candidate school, is virtually a charter member in the new army group which hopes to have 300 officers, 40 warrant officers and 400 enlisted women within the next three years.

Enlistment in the WAF is open to women between 18 and 35, single and a high school education or its equivalent. WAF personnel serve as gunnery instructors, air crew members, radio operators, technicians, secretaries and interpreters.

DON WINS PRIZE

The honor of being top winner in the John C. Klein memorial writing awards contest, sponsored by the Newspaper Institute of America, now belongs to Donald G. Miller, News-Journal telegraph editor. Miller's prize was $50 for a story in which he weighed his writing future. Copy of the story has been printed in the Copy Desk Flash, published monthly by NIA. Miller, a native of Wellington, is no novice at the writing game. After serving overseas as a machine gunner with the Canadian-American First Special Service Force in the war, he returned in 1946 to set down some of his war experiences in a book called "A GI View." Miller says the book surprised him by making a little money. Writing since childhood, Miller also has had several pieces of poetry accepted by the American Baby Magazine and since then has tapped out a lot of feature stories, most of which appeared in the Outdoor Sportsman.

GET LEATHER MITTENS—

Mansfield's school boy patrolmen aren't worried about the snow and cold weather. The police department, using funds obtained from the sale of tickets at the Policemen's ball, is distributing 225 pairs of mittens to the patrolmen. Acting Traffic Commissioner Robert Garver said today that 131 pairs have been distributed and that the remainder have been ordered. Normally, he explained, the leather mittens are distributed at the patrol's Christmas dinner, but that they are being given out early this year so that the boys can use them during cold snaps in November and early December.

Sentence Deferred

Sentencing of Donald F. Landon, 33, of Bellville, R. D. 2, was deferred today by Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch, pending a blood test for the defendant.

Landon is charged with breaking and entering of the general store of Howard T. Cross at Darlington last Sept. 25 when $119 in merchandise was taken.

A 15-year-old boy participated with Landon in the burglary. Landon told the court he attempted to talk the boy out of burglarizing the store.

Assistant Prosecutor Claude F. Ewing told the court that Landon's FBI record shows he was sentenced to two years in the Missouri penitentiary on a statutory rape charge in 1945 and was released after serving 16 months.

Landon told the court he served in the Army for three years and was given a medical discharge in 1943. Landon was represented by Attorney Homer G. Clark.

Car Leaps 6 Feet Off Ground

Victim Regains Consciousness

A 26-year-old Plymouth woman was seriously injured late yesterday when she drove her car into a dead-end road, crashed into an embankment, then "literally took off" and rammed the car into a tree six feet from the ground, state patrolmen said.

The victim, Mrs. Mervin Mitchell, Plymouth, R. D. 1, regained consciousness early today at Crestline Emergency hospital where she is being treated for a broken nose and severe head bruises. Mrs. Mitchell was reported in "fairly good" condition.

State patrolmen said the accident occurred shortly after 10 p. m. at Washington road and State Route 61, four-tenths of a mile north of Crestline.

Driving alone and headed north on Washington road, Mrs. Mitchell was believed to have crashed the stop sign at the dead end road, then crashed into the bank and the tree on the property of Edward Krichbaum, Crestline, R. D. 1.

Patrolmen said the car was demolished and that the motor and fenders were completely torn from the body. Officers said Mrs. Mitchell was operating the car without a driver's license.

Another accident near Crestline earlier in the evening resulted in injuries to Forrest Liles, 34, of Grafton, R. D. 1, who suffered lacerations of the face when his panel truck left the road and overturned.

Patrolmen said the mishap occurred two-tenths of a mile east of Crestline on U.S. Route 30-N at approximately 8:30 p. m. Liles told officers a truck had forced him off the road and that his truck struck the berm and upset. Liles was treated at the Crestline hospital and released.

Orders Oleo Form Check

Petitions, obtained in Richland county to initiate a law to permit sale of colored oleomargarine in Ohio, are being sent to the county board of elections for checking.

Thomas R. Zeigler, board clerk, said a letter from Secretary of State Edward J. Hummel stated 47 part-petitions containing 1,589 signatures were being sent here.

The board was instructed to go over the signatures to determine their sufficiency and then return them to Columbus with a report as to the findings. The letter asked that reasons for the insufficiency of any signature be indicated.

95 Chickens Taken From Farm

Sheriff's deputies today were attempting to find the thieves who stole 95 chickens from the farm of Raymond Poole on Walker Lake road Monday.

The farm is on a private lane, 1500 feet from the nearest neighbors. Mrs. Poole said she left her home early Monday morning and discovered the theft upon her return that evening. Apparently the thieves had opened the gate to the lane and removed the chickens in a truck. Only 17 chickens were left.

500 Attend Farm Bureau Session, Pick Trustees

The annual meeting of the Richland County Farm Bureau was held last night at Madison high school with about 500 members present. Trustees from the county's five districts were elected. A total of nine resolutions were drawn up.

The trustees elected were:

Mrs. D. A. Kochenderfer, representing District 1, which includes Plymouth, Cass, Butler, and Bloominggrove townships.

Ralph Oswalt, representing District 2; which includes Sharon, Jackson, Franklin and Weller townships.

Oliver Rinehart, representing District 3, which includes Springfield, Madison, Mifflin and Sandusky townships.

C. R. Mengert, representing District 4, which includes Troy, Washington and Monroe townships.

Maurice Fisher, representing District 5, which includes Perry, Jefferson and Worthington townships.

Voting delegates for the 1949 state meeting of the Farm Bureau elected were Mrs. Mary Gramley, Raymond Landis, Earl Huston, Mrs. Roger Kerr, C. C. Till, Ralph Lantz and David Culler jr.

Charles Clingan was elected to represent the county youth group affiliated with the Farm Bureau. He will be privileged to sit with the board of directors.

The slate of delegates to the 1949 state meeting will accompany the voting delegates to the 1948 convention in Columbus Nov. 29 to Dec. 1. The latter group consists of L. L. Rinehart, Mrs. Clarence Greibling, Arthur Pugh, Walter Berry, Jud Clingan, William Eckstein and Mrs. Paul Stuart.

Four local resolutions were adopted at the meeting. They included:

Calling for improvement of parking and traffic conditions in Mansfield.

Supporting the Richland county Rural Life Center.

Opposing the adoption of daylight saving time.

Urging county officials to give more time and attention to county roads.

In addition three state resolutions and two federal resolutions were adopted.

The state resolutions reiterated the opposition to daylight saving time; opposed reapportionment with regard to the election of state senators and representatives, and opposed the transfer of real estate taxes to personal property tax duplicates.

The federal resolutions opposed additional taxes to farmer-owned co-operatives, and favored a long range agricultural program.

The speaker of the evening was Warren Davis, principal of Alliance high school.

Entertainment was provided by the Melody Rangers.

Cleveland Tribe Is Interested In Pitcher Ted Lyons

CLEVELAND — (AP) — The Cleveland Indians are "definitely interested" in obtaining 48-year-old Ted Lyons as a relief pitcher for next season, it was announced today

Tribe officials said President Bill Veeck would make an offer to the former Chicago White Sox manager, who will be 48 in December. That puts him in about the same age group as another ancient Tribe relief hurler, Satchel Paige.

Lyons has not pitched since 1946, but was still going strong then when he retired to devote all his time to managing.

The Tribe feels that Lyons, with a fine knuckle ball, good control and a full head of pitching wisdom, would fill a gap in the relief hurling corps, which will be weakened through the voluntary retirement of Russ Christopher.

Lineman of Week

NEW YORK —(AP)— Lou Hoitsma, William and Mary end, pulled a Bill Swiacki catch against North Carolina last Saturday. This feat brought him today the honor of being named the lineman of the week in the Associated Press poll.

John B. Metzenberg Switches to Calvert

CHICAGO, ILL.—John B. Metzenberg, of 5036 Ellis Ave., well-known Chicago yachtsman and vice-president of a paper company here, has joined the big switch to Calvert Reserve. "I switched," he says, "because Calvert makes a much better tasting highball."

Undefeated Big Blue 11 Counts 341

Ohio scholastic football's most potent offensive machine will be displayed at Arlin field Friday night against Mansfield Senior high.

It is the highly-touted Big Blue of Hamilton, a gridiron force which has rolled up 341 points in winning eight straight games. The T formation boys of Coach Chuck Thackara have permitted the opposition to get into the act for only 64 markers.

Hamilton will possibly be the toughest foe the Tygers have come across this year. That is going some since Mansfield took it on the chin from Whiting, Ind., and Massillon. Both of those aggregations are near the top in their respective states.

NOT TOO TOUGH

Some observers hasten to point out that Hamilton hasn't played too tough a schedule. For that matter, the same could be said about the Senior high team. Each team gets a boost and a debit from comparative scores.

Springfield which seems to play its best against Senior high fell before the Tygers, 26 to 20. Hamilton gained revenge for its only 1947 defeat by smearing Springfield, 61 to 12. Senior high kayoed Portsmouth, 33 to 0, and Hamilton won over the Trojans, 34 to 12.

Other victims of the Hamilton might are: Dayton Fairview, 44 to 6; Zanesville, 31 to 7; Chillicothe, 44 to 0; Cincinnati Elder, 41 to 20; Cincinnati Hughes, 47 to 7 and Canton Timken, 39 to 0.

Timken was the last crew to feel the Hamilton power. The Canton outfit had tied only one game and lost six before tangling with the Big Blue in the mud. Hamilton scored twice in each of the first three periods. Canton blanked them in the fourth quarter, marking only the second period in 32 in which Hamilton hasn't scored.

BAILEY GETS FOUR

Jim "Boxcar" Bailey, the 192-pound halfback, now tops the one-two Hamilton punch. Bailey counted four times against Timken to raise his seasonal total to 17 touchdowns. Jack Gordon, the speedy 165-pound right half, fell to second in the TD parade with 15. Gordon has scored in every game.

Bailey's Canton TD's came on runs of 39, 55 and 60 yards. He got the other from 58 yards out after taking a 25-yard toss from Quarterback Bill Wilks.

Hamilton's air-arm, Wilks, is also quite a fellow. He towers six-foot, three-inches and tips the scales at 170 pounds. That makes him the tallest and one of the best passers in the state. Baily and Ends Ora Day and Bob Sumser are capable receivers. All three stand about 6-1.

REPLACES MATHER

Thackara replaced Chuch Mather as Hamilton coach when the latter moved up the line to Massillon. Thackara had piloted Columbus Grandview to ten straight victories last season. He uses the Paul Brown T as does Senior high.

Hamilton will go into Friday's clash a heavy favorite. Wire service grid polls rate the Big Blue second only to Canton McKinley while Senior high can do no better than 16th. However, the Tygers represent the season's toughest competition for the Big Blue.

Veteran Hamilton grid followers say this is the best Big Blue team in history. A broad statement, perhaps, as the southern Ohio team has had only two losing seasons in the past 37 years. The record over that stretch stands at 239 victories, 69 losses and 19 ties. The Big Blue has scored 7,107 points to 2,343 for the opposition.

Last year, Hamilton defeated Mansfield, 19 to 7. Blocked punts led to the Big Blue scores.

Bucyrus Sports Editor Joins Journal Staff

BUCYRUS — Paul Keckstein, sports editor of the Bucyrus Telegraph-Forum since 1940, began his new duties yesterday as a reporter on the Ohio State Journal in Columbus.

Replacing Keckstein on the local paper is Herbert Wurth of Garden City, N. Y., a journalism graduate of New York university.

MAY REPEAT TRICK—Jim Schwartz, captain and left end, will lead the Galion high Tigers for the last time Friday night when they go after their first victory of the season against Ashland. The Tigers will be attempting to repeat the trick turned last week by Oberlin which won its only game of the season from the A's.

Ritz Quint Takes Honors In Richland Bowling Loop

Honor roll scores were among the missing in bowling leagues at both Colony and Richland Recreation alleys last night.

Without the aid of a 600 series, however, Ritz Nite club managed to take every conceivable honor in the Richland "C" league.

Ritz had high single game—933, high total—2,587, won three straight from Schonauer Motors, and had two of its men take individual leads.

Fesler Looks For Another Linebacker

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Coach Wesley Fesler of the Ohio State university football team is looking for a sound linebacker in case some of his Pitt casualties aren't ready for Illinois next Saturday at Champaign.

Quarterback Pete Perini of New Village, N. J., on whom Fesler usually depends, got some bumps and lumps last Saturday while the Buckeyes were swamping the Panthers, 41 to 0, and it just may be that he won't see too much service at Champaign.

RENNER CHOICE

George Wertz of Piqua subbed for Perini and Fesler said he would do all right against Illinois, but if anything happened to him, the team would be in a spot. So Chuck Renner of Akron, a third string center, worked behind Wertz in yesterday's drill.

End Charlie Gilbert of Columbus is another casualty who may not get in the Illinois game. Dale Bonnie of Columbus will work for him at right end and Jim Palmer of Springfield at left. Gilbert plays either position himself.

Quarterback Pandel Savic of Girard and fullback Joe Whisler of Willard paced yesterday's drill by throwing most of the passes. The team was working on pass protection and pass offense mainly.

Neyland Rates Coach of Week

NEW YORK—(UP)—He has reduced football to a military science and his maneuvers with players are a little tedious for spectators to watch.

He goes right on winning football games with his old fashioned single wing and his varied defenses, each well plotted in advance to stop whatever kind of plays the opposition features.

He's the United Press coach of the week. Gen. Bob Neyland of Tennessee, whose vigorous volunteers knocked Georgia Tech out of the perfect record ranks Saturday in one of the major upsets of the year.

Louis Faiello fired a 221-161-183—565 for the top series, while Harry Young had a 230 single game for the best in that department. Youfig also had a 560 series to be runner-up. Jacot, 511, and Joe Lesch, 510, were the only other "C" leaguers to go over 500.

★

League-leading Schmid's Tire Service amassed the highest team total in the Transportation league at Colony, but still lost two of three games. Motor Cargo, led by George Percy's 202-202-159—563, dumped Schmid's in t he first two games.

Percy took individual honors in the loop, with Luehy of Local 40 runner-up with 548. Tony Augustine had 527, John Brown, 514; Frank Raddler, 511; Walt Norris, 508, and Bill Locke, 506. Locke's 205 was the best single game in the league.

★

A 187-190-178—555 was good enough to give L. Mantel the No. 1 spot in the Westinghouse C league. Lou Tridico issued the only challenge as he posted a 179-191-181—551. R. Page finished with a 539 and W. Hassinger, 512.

★

Best individual series in the Mansfield Tire league was the 572 turned in by Cecil Reep. Reep put together games of 226, 178 and 168 for his mark.

Chuck McMullen was runner-up with a 568 mark while B. Campbell and Fred Harmon chimed in with 550. Roy Shively had 549, Ken Windsor, 547; John Gross, 540; G. Kuelling, 538, and R. Hannahs, 531.

★

In the Elks loop, Richard Stofer showed the way with a 164-188-224—576 mark. Art Hilborn ran a close second with 203-196-161—560 while Charles Roby turned in a 556. Other good scores in the league included a 551 by Richard Treisch, and a 546 by Emmett McIntire. Bob Bieri had a 534 and Myron Cairns a 533.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

SEATTLE—Buford Ramson, 149, Seattle, knocked out Irish Dick Lee, 146, San Jose, Calif., 1.

LOS ANGELES—Bernard Docusen, 148, New Orleans, stopped Bert Linam, 146½, Austin, Tex., 4.

Tug Wilson Won't Talk About Entry

COLUMBUS—(UP)—Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, Western conference athletic commissioner, today declined to indicate whether Michigan State's application for membership in the Big Nine would be accepted.

Michigan State's application for admission to the Big Nine has been pending three years. It will be acted upon Dec. 10 at a meeting of faculty representatives from the Big Nine schools in Chicago.

"Michigan State not only has a good football program but a well rounded athletic program," Wilson said. That was as far as he would go in discussing the application.

WILL NOT GO

Wilson, here to speak at the 83rd annual meeting of the Ohio Dental association, said Michigan will not go to the Rose Bowl next New Year's day regardless of how it finishes in the current Big Nine race.

The current pact between the Big Nine and the Pacific Coast conference forbids a repeat performance by a Big Nine team in the Rose Bowl during a three-year period.

"It is possible that when the National Collegiate Athletic association meets in San Francisco next January the rule may be discussed," Wilson said. "I doubt it will be changed, however, until the contract . . . runs out."

Billy Conn Hopes For Third Crack At Champ Louis

NEW YORK—(INS)—Billy Conn has advanced to the point in his proposed comeback where he has lined up an exhibition crack at Joe Louis, two other matches and is ready to sign with 20th Century for a New York appearance.

The six-rounder with the heavyweight champion will be held at Chicago Dec. 10. Conn plans a match at Macon, Ga., and another at Dallas, Tex., then will be ready to talk business for a return to the "Big Apple."

His ultimate aim is a third title fight with Louis, he disclosed yesterday after a conference with Harry Markson, the managing director of the 20th Century.

Northwestern Gets Ready For Double T

CHICAGO—(AP)—Northwestern's Rose Bowl hopefuls think Coach Frank Leahy of Notre Dame may cross his "T" in Saturday's big football game and are preparing accordingly.

The once-beaten Wildcats are setting up defensive patterns in drills against the Irish mystery formation, the capital T.

The wily Leahy has unveiled it in only one contest thus far. That was against Purdue in the season's inaugural—the only game in which Notre Dame was extended before pulling out a 28-27 victory.

The capital T sends two quarterbacks directly behind the center. Only one, of course, takes the snap-back. They both turn, faking and feinting. The one with the ball—guess who—can either hand it off to (1) his quarterback partner; (2) Fullback John Panelli; (3) Halfback Red Sitko. Panelli, with an 8.6 rushing average, and Sitko with 6.3 are aligned behind the two quarterbacks.

Or, the fellow who takes the ball can fade for passing.

The two quarterbacks used in this maneuver are Frank Tripucka, the No. 1 signal-caller, who has pitched seven touchdown passes, and little-known Robert Allen Williams.

HEAR ABOUT WILLIAMS

You probably will hear a lot about Williams in the future. He is being groomed as quarterback successor. Only 18, the sophomore came to Notre Dame from Baltimore's Loyola high school where he was twice named all-state in each of three sports, football, basketball and baseball.

If the Irish choose to use their capital T as an element of surprise to gain crucial yardage against Northwestern, the 180-pound Williams may leap to fame. He's certainly an integral part in it.

Notre Dame gained nothing the three times they tossed the formation at Purdue, but not because it misfired. The first time, Tripucka's pass overshot End Jim Martin who was in the clear. The second time Tripucka hit End Leon Hart for a 15-yard gain which was nullified by an offside infraction. Another penalty broke up a running attempt.

Northwestern's freshmen have been using it against the varsity line in practices this week and it has failed to be impressive. But in the hands of experienced Notre Dame backs, who knows?

Passing Duel Listed Sunday

CLEVELAND —(INS)— Round five in the Otto Graham-Frankie Albert duel comes up Sunday in Cleveland for once Graham is likely to be on the short end of the betting.

Four times the Cleveland Browns and San Francisco 49-ers have met in all-America conference battles, and each struggle has developed into a personal contest for honors between the rival T-formation quarterbacks.

At stake in Sunday's contest, beside personal desires, will be the conference championship. So far this season the 49-ers are undefeated in 10 contests while the Browns have taken nine straight.

Big International Meet Is Planned

NEW YORK —(INS)— Plans are being completed for a bi-annual international track meet between the nations of Europe and the Americas.

Officials of the Amateur Athletic union said today that they hoped to hold the first meet in 1949 either in the midwest or a western city in the United States. If current plans pan out the site for the meet will alternate each year.

Forty Young Footballers Play Tonight

The most exciting time in their 14-year lives will come for some forty Madison township football players at 7:30 tonight when they display their talent in a full-fledged grid game under the Madison high lights.

The boys, representing East Mansfield, Woodville, and Lincoln Heights grade school, are to tangle before an expected large crowd, the Madison band and queens of their respective schools. Woodville and Lincoln Heights will combine forces in the game to meet the larger East Mansfield squad.

It will be the third meeting of the season for the two teams. The combined eleven defeated East Mansfield, 20-0, two weeks ago but were beaten in an earlier game.

A full football program, including registered officials, a half-time program and refreshment stands is planned by the Madison booster club which is sponsoring the game.

Indian Hurler May Undergo An Operation

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Don Black, Cleveland Indians hurler recently released from the hospital after suffering a brain hemorrhage, may undergo an operation to relieve continuous headaches.

Dr. Edward Castle, team physician, said x-rays will be taken today to determine if surgery is necessary.

The operation, described by Dr. Castle as not dangerous, will "tie" the carotid artery and strengthen the spot where the hemorrhage occurred.

Black, who won fame for his no-hitter against Philadelphia in 1947, collapsed at bat last Sept. 13. He was released from the hospital Oct. 24 after he had remained unconscious for several weeks.

Physicians said the operation was not expected to prevent Black from resuming his baseball playing next spring.

Black's name was on the Indians' roster released here.

Only four newcomers were listed: Will Hafey, a pitcher, who had a 13-10 record with Oakland; Catcher Mil Stockhausen (.217) and Infielder Bobby Wilson (.255) of Baltimore and Infielder Fred Marsh (.305) of Oklahoma City.

Rens Court Team Plays Next Week

The New York Renaissance will officially launch the cage season in Mansfield one week from tonight.

Announcement to that effect was made today by Stan Kamen, city recreation director, who plans to send an all-star team of City A leaguers against the spectacular pros.

The game will be played at Senior high school gym next Wednesday and is billed as the curtain raiser of the city-controlled basketball program. Play in the City A and B leagues will begin the week of Nov. 29.

GIVE FINE SHOW

The Rens appeared here last year and put on a fine show for local fans while issuing a sound thumping to the Columbus Mariners team of the All-America Basketball league. The Rens are made up of veteran players who interwine a tricky ball handling and passing exhibition along with fancy shooting and good, straight basketball.

Opposition will come from an all-star team which is now being organized and will be announced within a few days. A majority of the team will be made up of members of the Urschel Insurance team which won the Class A championship last year.

Tickets for the game will be placed on sale tomorrow at City News, Park Avenue News, and Ideal Billiards, Kamen said.

Barons vs. Hornets

Rams Drill Hard This Week

Coach Tries To Remedy Weaknesses

The hardest and longest practice sessions of the season are a part of the regular schedule for Madison high footballers this week as Coach Ennis Walker attempts to correct some of the glaring weaknesses which cropped up in last Friday's trouncing by Wooster.

All phases of offense and defense were "off" at Wooster, and all will come in for some correction this week. Both blackboard sessions and hard field work are used as part of the drills.

The Rams worked until nearly dark yesterday with tackling coming in for a large part of the drill. That particular phase of the defense has been pitifully weak and Walker is determined that things will be different in the season finale Friday at Bucyrus.

The Redmen are the fourth undefeated team Madison has met and on each occasion the opposition came through unscathed. Orrville is still unbeaten, while Loudonville and Mt. Vernon, the other two clubs, have since taken whippings.

Bucyrus has won seven games and tied one. After copping six in a row, it played a 7-7 stalemate with Upper Sandusky, its runner-up in the Northern Ohio league.

Walker watched Bucyrus defeat Bellevue Monday and came away most concerned by the NOL champs' speed. Although strong on the line, the Madison backfield is sadly lacking in breakaway runners.

Four times in the Wooster game Madison runners broke into the clear for what could have been touchdown runs. Each time, however, they were overtaken and brought down from behind.

Big League Draft Scheduled Today

CINCINNATI—(AP)—A score of "bushers," more or less, will leap to the major leagues today as the two top loops hand-pick talent from the minors in the annual baseball draft.

This is no catch-as-catch-can affair, for the big leaguers know just which players among the more than 5,000 eligibles they'd like to add to their rosters.

Use Big Gloves

CLEVELAND —(INS)— Joe Louis and Jimmy Bivins will use 12-ounce gloves in their six-round exhibition bout a week from tonight in Cleveland.

NEW PRESIDENT Bruce Dudley, president of Louisville Baseball club and former sports editor of Louisville Courier-Journal, was named president of the American Association at Cincinnati, O. yesterday. He succeeds Frank Lane, who has been named general manager of the Chicago White Sox. (AP Wirephoto)

Basketball Rules Demonstration Is Scheduled Nov. 24

A public rules demonstration clinic was set for Senior high school gym, Nov. 24, at a meeting of the city basketball officials last night at the office of Recreation director Stam Kamen.

Explanation of all rules, demonstrations of their interpretations and every phase of the game will be covered. League officials will act as interpreters, with players in both the City A and B leagues getting a chance to see just how things are to be called.

Several practice games will be held with the game being stopped at each infraction for an explanation by officials.

Signed up with Kamen to work city league games are Joe Atton, John Hoffman, Charley Stine, Charlie Saprano, Tony Breinich, Mike Bosko, Bill Moody.

Russians Claim Olympic Championship By Default

By BILL UMSTEAD

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Russia claimed the 1948 Olympic championship by default today.

The United States won the 1948 Olympics, but the Soviets say the only reason that happened was that their boys and girls weren't there to participate.

Russia's claims in the sports world were outlined today in the Nov. 3 issue of the U. S. S. R. information bulletin, which is distributed by the Soviet embassy.

It lists the author of the article as one Platon Ippolitov, "honored master of sports of the USSR."

BREAK 12 MARKS,

Comrade Ippolitov's article claims that Russian athletes have broken 12 marks set by representatives of the western world in the Olympic games at London.

Ippolitov reports that in most cases Russia has at least two men who have excelled American, British, French and other allied athletes.

He hastens to point out that the USSR did not compete in the 1948 Olympics.

Further, Ippolitov explains carefully that all of these marks set by Soviet athletes just couldn't have happened before the Communists took over in Russia. Ippolitov writes:

"This progress provides a powerful contrast to the accomplishments of athletes in the old Russia, where, because of the almost complete lack of facilities (there was not a single stadium in tsarist Russia) there were only a handful of first-rate track and field athletes.

Now stadia are to be found in every Soviet city; and extensive facilities for athletes are to be found everywhere in the Soviet union — on the collective farms as well as in the cities and towns.

"Consequently, a virtual army of top-notch Soviet track and field athletes has arisen."

LISTEN TO THIS

If you believe that American Bob Mathias' feat of winning the Olympics decathlon with 7,139 points was something, just listen to Ippolitov.

He said that the Soviets have two boys who outdid Mathias and accordingly lists them as Comrade H. Lipp, who piled up the amazing total of 7,789 points, and V. Volkov, who got a mere 7,229 points.

(P. S. — Comrade Ippolitov didn't say whether Russia would be on hand to dominate the 1952 Olympics.)

Great Lakes Bowl Gets John Carroll

CLEVELAND —(AP)— The second annual Great Lakes Bowl football game here Dec. 4 may be an all Ohio affair.

Knights of Columbus officials announced yesterday that John Carroll university of Cleveland had been signed as one team and that the other would be announced in a few days. Possible opponents include Miami university of Oxford, and the University of Dayton in Ohio, and Holy Cross and Boston college.
